DEVONSHIRE STREET Boston, April 2, 1889. 188 Alexander Graham Bell, Esq.,
Washington, D. C. Dear Sir:

I have just heard of the death of my friend Dr. Radcliffe. As you know, he has made me his executor and guardian of the children. His intention was, to have his will probated in Essex County, Massachusetts. It will be necessary that one of the witnesses to the will shall appear before the Judge of Probate in Salem. Have you any intention of being in Boston within the next week or two? If not, the matter will have to be arranged by means of your deposition.

I remain

Yours truly,
