

A. Stumph

w14790

Growth of Bridgeport

Present Day Bridgeport

Religious Life In Bridgeport

Hungarian Baptist Church

Fairfield Ave. and Sillman St.

Interview with Rev. A. Stumph

I asked the religious beliefs of the church, Rev. Stumph said [?] church was fundermentalist, following the teaching of the Bible.

There is a working class of people attending the church.

The seating capacity is 400. The membership is [IIO?]. The Sunday attendence is around 90.

Societies

Young's People's Club.. religious meetings, missionary work and [? ].

Girl's Club.. religious meetings, missionary work and social.

Women's Mission.. missionary work and social.

Library of Congress

Men's Mission.. missionary work and social.

There is also a church band connected with this church, they play for church services and also play on the streets teaching the Gospel.

There are no colored people attending this church.

There are all Hungarian attending this church and the service is also said in Hungarian.

Mix marriage.. two families... Catholic and Protestant.. The [? ?] of the Greek Catholic [denomination?].