PREFACE.

We give here only the modern and popular Quadrilles, or those most easily acquired. There are many more, too complicated for general use, which are rarely danced.

In all figures of most Quadrilles, eight bars of music must be allowed for introduction, unless otherwise mentioned. Begin all Quadrilles with "Address partners," when the music commences, allowing eight bars. "Address" means bow.

Library of Congress

Every person should be able to dance the general society quadrilles without the aid of a "caller."

The call "All men left," or "Allemande," generally pronounced by callers "El-la men left," can be used in any Quadrille to fill out. This call should never be used in a Lancers or special Quadrille. The same in regard to the call of "All promenade," or "Balance to partners."

The number opposite each call represents the number of measures or bars of music for that call. By doubling that number it gives the number of steps. Thus eight bars makes sixteen steps. In Waltz Quadrilles, where all the music is Waltz time, there is, however, only one step to each bar.

After every figure the explanation of each call is given, excepting where a certain call has already been explained in some previous figure, or where the call explains itself.

Call Book of Modern Quadrilles, BY HERMAN A. STRASSBURG, JR.

FORMATION OF NEARLY ALL QUADRILLES.

The first couple is generally at the head of the ball room or nearest the orchestra.

The first and third couples constitute what is termed “heads”; the second and fourth couples, “sides.”

When dancers change places in the course of a Quadrille, they must stand in same position as the couple who originally occupied the place. As a rule, the gentleman should finish a call with his lady at his right.

Gentlemen should lead their partners through the movements with one hand, and take simply a walking step unless otherwise stated.

The majority of Quadrilles consist of five numbers. As a rule, it is well to omit one, generally No. 4, and dance but four numbers. Otherwise, many Quadrilles would take up too much time.

Plain (Standard) Quadrille.

Piano Music , 40 cents, Orchestra Music, see Index Page .

Commence by addressing partners, then center of set.

No. 1. Measures.

Library of Congress

Heads right and left 8

Promenade 8

Ladies' chain 8

Promenade 8

Repeat for Sides.

Explanation .—"Right and left" means cross to opposite side and return. Lady passes between the opposite couple.

Promenade, often incorrectly called "Balance Four": Face partner, take both hands and do rapid sliding movements to opposite side and return. Ladies' chain: The lady turns opposite gentleman, with left hand once around, and returns same way to partner. As the ladies pass each other they touch right hands. In this call, the gentlemen remain at their places.

No. 2. Measures.

Heads forward and back 4

Cross over 4

Cross to right and left 4

Cross back 4

All take hands forward and back. Turn partners 8

Sides repeat.

Library of Congress

“Forward and back” means to take four steps to center of set and back to place. Cross to right and left: Formerly called “Chassè.” Face partners, take four walking steps past each other and return.

No. 3. Measures.

Heads forward and back 4

Forward, leave first lady with opposite couple 4

Forward and back three 4

Forward, leave both ladies with opposite couple 4

Forward and back three 4

Forward and join hands 4

Four hands half around 4

Half right and left (to place) 4

Repeat for each lady.

“Half right and left” means cross to place. In repeating this figure the second lady begins by crossing to opposite place; then third lady begins, and last time the fourth lady.

No. 4. Measures.

All take hands forward and back. Turn partners 8

Grand right and left 16

Address corners and turn 8

All take hands forward and back 4

Forward and address 4

In "grand right and left," take first your partner's right hand; pass your partner and take next person's left hand, and so continue straight ahead until you meet your partner. Then stop and bow. Continue around to place, alternating hands, again bowing to partner. "Ladies cross right hands" by giving right hand to the opposite lady, then march around inside of set, retaining opposite lady's hand. When again in place, take partner's left hand and all hold fast, forming thus: +. "Balance" is a gliding, side to side movement, executed in place.

This Quadrille can be danced diagonally, like the Saratoga Lancers, When so danced, it is called the "Diagonal Quadrille." In No. 3, instead of one lady at a time crossing over, both head ladies cross to the sides and vice versa .

No. 3. Measures.

Heads forward and back 4

Forward, address and retire to place 4

Four ladies cross right hands half round, left hand back 8

Note .—Third and fourth times, gentlemen cross hands.

Sides repeat.

In many localities, the call “Ladies' chain” takes the place of “Four ladies cross right hands,” etc.

No. 4. Measures.

Heads lead to the right. Address 4

To the opposite couples, address 4

To place, address partners 4

Right and left four 8

Sides repeat.

In “Heads lead to the right,” the first couple goes to the second couple and bows, then to fourth couple and bows. At same time the third couple goes to the fourth and to second couples.

“Right and left four” same as No. 1 of Plain Quadrille.

Library of Congress

No. 5. Measures.

Address partners (first time only).

Grand right and left 16

First couple face out 4

Side couples fall in 4

All chassè forward and back 8

First couple lead down the center and back 8

Forward and back all. Turn partners to place 8

Repeat for each couple.

“Grand right and left” as in No. 4 of Plain Quadrille. In “First couple face out,” the first couple marches around the inside of set, eight steps, then faces “head” of room. The other couples fall in line (second next, fourth next, third last), all facing same direction. “All chassè forward and back” means to take four steps forward (all facing out), four backward, four forward, and four steps for ladies and gentlemen to separate and form two lines. Between these two lines the first couple walks down to opposite end and back to place. In repeating the figure, the second couple marches eight steps around inside of set and faces out: that is, faces just the opposite direction from its regular position. The head couples then fall in, etc. Same for third and fourth couples.

Saratoga Lancers.

Piano Music , 50 cents. Orchestra Music, see Index Page .

Library of Congress

There is but little difference between the calls of this and the plain Lancers. The Saratoga style is much the better way of dancing the Lancers, as it keeps the whole set moving, making a fine appearance, and doing away with the long waits for heads and sides.

No. 1. Measures.

Heads forward and back, with side couples on their right, 4

Forward and turn opposite 4

Head couples pass between side couples; returning, side couples between head couples 8

All balance at corners 4

Turn corners 4

Repeat with other corner.

6

No. 2. Measures.

All forward and back 4

Place ladies in center (facing partners) and bow 4

All chassè to right and left 4

Turn partners to places 4

Promenade around the set 8

Repeat with other corner,

Library of Congress

In "promenade around the set," take partner's both hands and do quick side slides around the entire set towards the right; one couple behind the other.

No. 3. Measures.

All join hands forward and back 4

Forward again, address opposite, and return to places 4

Ladies' double chain 8

Repeat.

"Ladies' double chain," or "four ladies' chain." The ladies cross right hands, walk half around the set, let go hands and turn the opposite gentleman with left hand. Cross right hands again, walk around to place and turn partners with left hand.

No. 4. Measures.

Heads lead to right; address and change partners 4

Lead to left; address and change again 4

Ladies go to gentlemen's places; all address 4

Right and left four to corners 8

Sides lead to right; address and change partners 4

Lead to left; address and change again 4

Ladies all go to original partner; all address 4

Library of Congress

Right and left four to other corners 8

Repeat, leading to left first.

in this figure the ladies exchange places. The gentlemen should always finish in their own places, the ladies opposite their own places, at end of first movement. The repetition of the figure by the side couples brings the ladies back to their original partners. "Right and left four," as in No. 1 of Plain Quadrille, but going to corner instead of to opposite couple.

No. 5. Measures.

Grand right and left half around and return (or use the Grand Square) 16

First couple face out, (See No 5. Standard Lancers) 4

Side couples fall in 4

Chassè forward and return. (See No. 5, Standard Lancers) 8

March; ladies to the right, gents to the left, to foot of set, passing partners, and marching up the opposite side 8

Forward and back in two lines and turn partners to places 8

Repeat for each couple.

For "Grand right and left," see No. 4 of Plain Quadrille. In this Lancers, instead of bowing when meeting partner, the dancers take partner's right hand and go half around each other, returning to place the way they came.

"The Grand Square:" Head couples go forward four steps; at same time the side couples face partners and walk backward, away from partner, four steps to corner of set. From there the side couples take four steps to head couple's places. While sides are doing above movement, the head couples take the opposite ladies' left hands and lead towards the side, four steps. Now the side ladies and gentlemen are head couples, and the head couples sides, but the ladies must all be standing at the gentlemen's left. The sides (now at the head) go forward four steps. take the opposite lady's hand, separate, and walk to original place with partner. At same time, heads (now sides) separate, going backwards four steps to corner of set, and then four steps to place, where they meet original partner. Repeat, sides first going forward and heads separating. Each person takes just sixteen steps, and forms a square in their corner of the set.

Library of Congress

Extra Quadrille Figures.

There are any number of changes, and we give a few of the most popular, which can be used with any quadrille music. For the first and last figures, use the changes as in the Plain Quadrille. As a rule, four numbers suffice for a quadrille, but in the Lancers and special quadrilles, all the regular figures are generally danced, as these changes cannot be used.

KNOWN IN ENGLAND AS "SIR ROGER DE COVERLY."

Any number of couples can dance, but, as a general thing, six couples form in two lines, ladies on one side and gentlemen opposite on the other side, thus:

[FOOT] 1 2 3 4 5 6 X X X X X X O O O O O O 1 2 3 4 5 6 [HEAD]

First gentleman and last lady forward and back 4

First lady and last gent the same 4

First gent and last lady turn each other by right hand 4

First lady and last gent the same 4

Library of Congress

Repeat last two calls with left hands 8

Repeat last two calls with both hands 8

Go around each other back to back

First gent and last lady Dos-a-Dos 4

First lady and last gent Dos-a-Dos 4

First couple promenade down the center and back 8

(Between the other couples.)

First couple now turn partner with right hand, and the second couple with the left hand. That is, the lady turns each gentleman in succession, and the gentlemen each lady, always, however, turning partner with right hand after turning one of the other couples. When all the couples have been turned, the first couple goes back to the head.

All march 16

The gentlemen turn to left and ladies to right, all following the leading couple to foot of set, where the couples take hands and march up again to places, the first couple immediately starting for the foot of the set, when all have their places. The second couple is now at the head and the first couple at the foot of set. The entire figure now recommences and is repeated for each couple. When the first couple is again at the head of set, all swing partners and promenade to seats.
