When-e'er the sun sinks to its rest, My thoughts go rov - ing way out West,
Do you re - call that night in June, When na-ture's gar - den seem'd in tune,

Out where the snowclad mountains fair, Smile on a maid - en there With gold - en sun-kiss'd hair;
We stroll'd thru Sun-set Val - ley fair, I whis - per'd in your ear How much I loved you dear;

Her brow is like the snow so white, Her eyes like burn - ing stars at night,
I gazed in eyes as dark as night, Yet burn-ing bright with sweet love - light,

They seem to guide me with their light, To where my love waits for me.
Though fate was cruel to thee and me, My heart still yearns ten-der - ly.
