IF EVERY LUTE ON EARTH WERE MUTE.

WORDS BY
R. E. FRANCILLON.

MUSIC BY
FREDERIC H. COWEN.

Allegro con moto.

If ev-ry lute..... on A sum-mer bird..... By earth were mute And dumb the woods of June..... Yet me is heard Thro' all the win-ter long..... A - music still my heart would fill.... And thou wouldst be the -loft he springs and si - lence sings? And thine is all the tune, And thou wouldst be the tune. If song, and thine is all the song. The all the year were dark and drear And dead the flow'rs in fro - zen hours are white with flow'rs And green the bar - ren

May Yet thou wouldst be..... my haw - thorn tree..... And pine And all the night with day is bright And thou wouldst be my day, Ah!.....

all... the world is thine, Ah!.....
