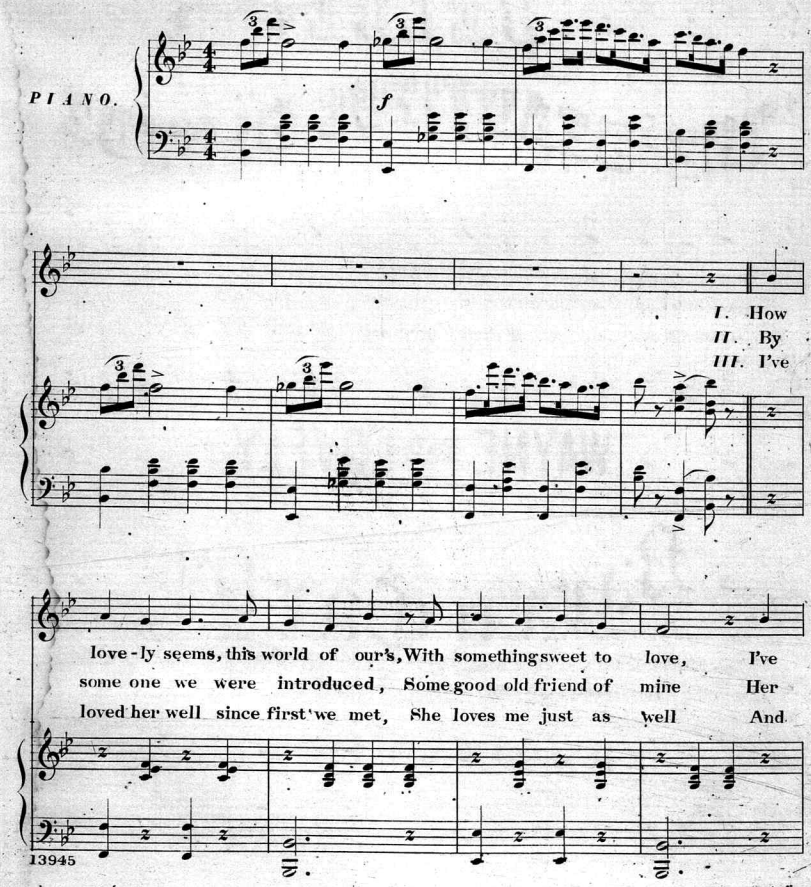
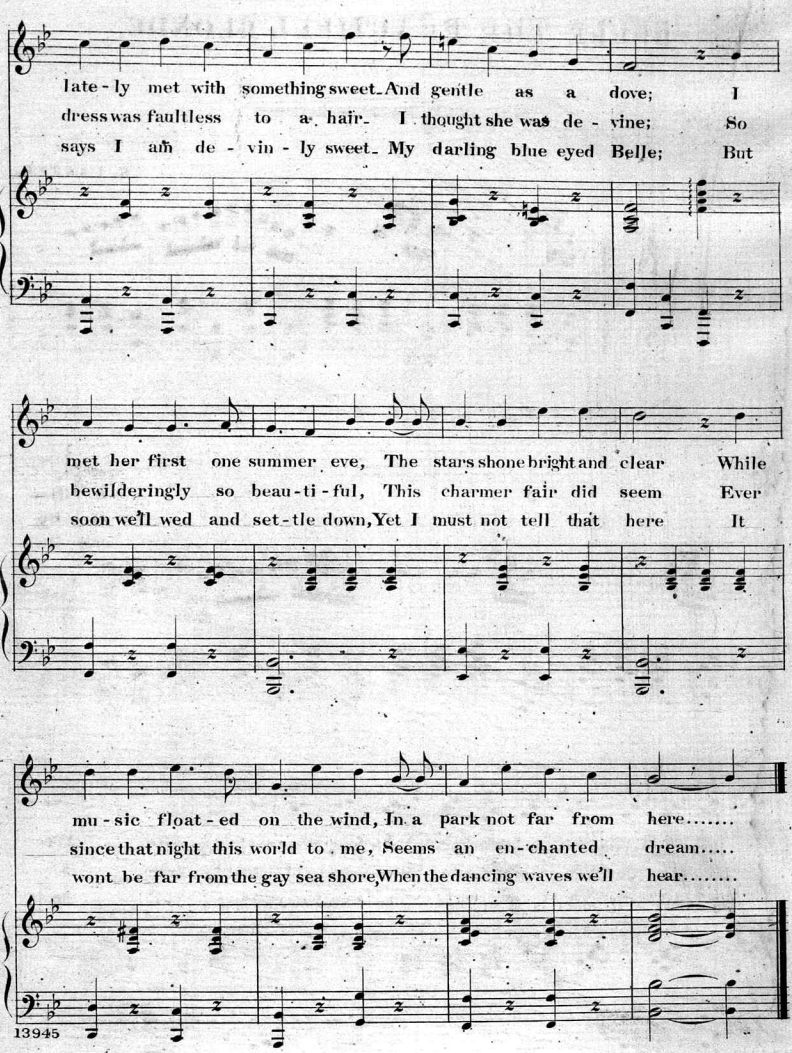
BELLE THE BEAUTIFUL BLONDE.

B. CARTER.





late-ly met with something sweet And gentle as a dove; I dress was faultless to a hair I thought she was de-vine; So says I am de-vin-ly sweet My darling blue eyed Belle; But met her first one summer eve, The stars shone bright and clear While bewilderingly so beau-ti-ful, This charmer fair did seem Ever soon we'll wed and set-tle down, Yet I must not tell that here It mu-sic float-ed on the wind, In a park not far from here..... since that night this world to me, Seems an en-chanted dream..... wont be far from the gay sea shore, When the dancing waves we'll hear.....

CHORUS.
My Belle she's a beau-ti-ful Blonde,..... In style oth-ers try to ex-cel..... Yet there's none in this land can com-pair..... With my darling, my beau-ti-ful Belle.....
Her laugh is ripplingmelo-dy so soft and sweet, With f pretty little tapering hands and fairy feet. Beneath her dancing gold-en curls, Her eyes shone bright and clear, She's sweet, but bet-ter then she looks, My pretty little dear.....
