HORN-PIPE.

The musical score for "HORN-PIPE" is presented in four systems, each consisting of a treble and bass staff. The key signature is three sharps (F#, C#, G#) and the time signature is 2/4. The first system begins with a forte (f) dynamic marking. The second system concludes with the word "FINE." The third system is marked with a repeat sign at the beginning. The fourth system concludes with the initials "D. C." (Da Capo). The music features a melodic line in the treble staff and a harmonic accompaniment in the bass staff, primarily using chords and eighth-note patterns.

The Ballad of Billy Taylor.

1. Bil - ly Tay - lor was a brisk young fel - ler, Full on mirth and full on glee,

And his mind he did dis - kiv - er, To a la - dy fair and free.

- 2 Four-and-twenty brisk young fellers,
Drest they vas in rich array,
They kim and they seized Billy Taylor,
Pressed he vas, and sent to sea.
- 3 His true-love she followed arter,
Under the name of Richard Carr,
And her hands were all bedaubed
With the nasty pitch and tar.
- 4 An engagement came on the very next morning ;
Bold she fit among the rest ;
The wind aside did blow her jacket,
And diskivered her lily-white breast.
- 5 When the Captain kim for to know it,
Says he, "Vat vind has blown you to me?"
"Kind sir : I be kim for to seek my true-love,
Whom you pressed and sent to sea."

- 6 "If you be kim for to seek your true-love,
He from the ship is gone away ;
And you'll find him in London streets, ma'am,
Valking vith his lady gay."
- 7 She rose up early in the morning,
Long before 'twas break of day,
And she found false Billy Taylor,
Valking vith his lady gay.
- 8 Straight she called for swords and pistols,
Brought they vas at her command,
She fell on shooting Billy Taylor,
Vith his lady in his hand.
- 9 When the Captain he kim for to know it,
He very much applauded her for what she'd done,
And he made her First Lieutenant
Of the valiant Thunderbomb.
