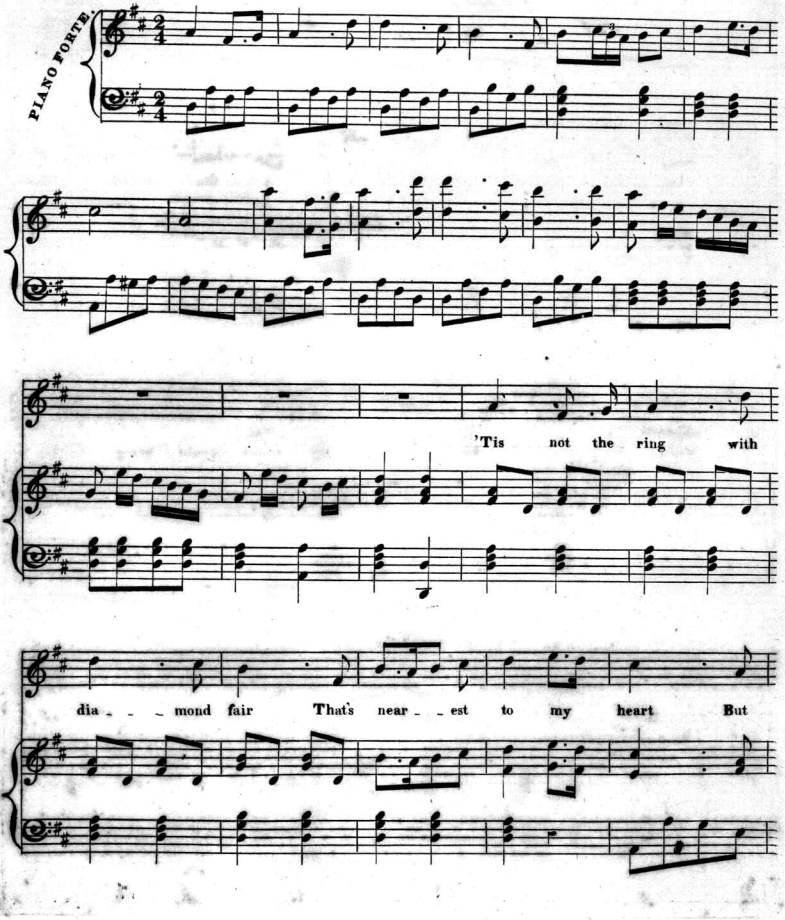
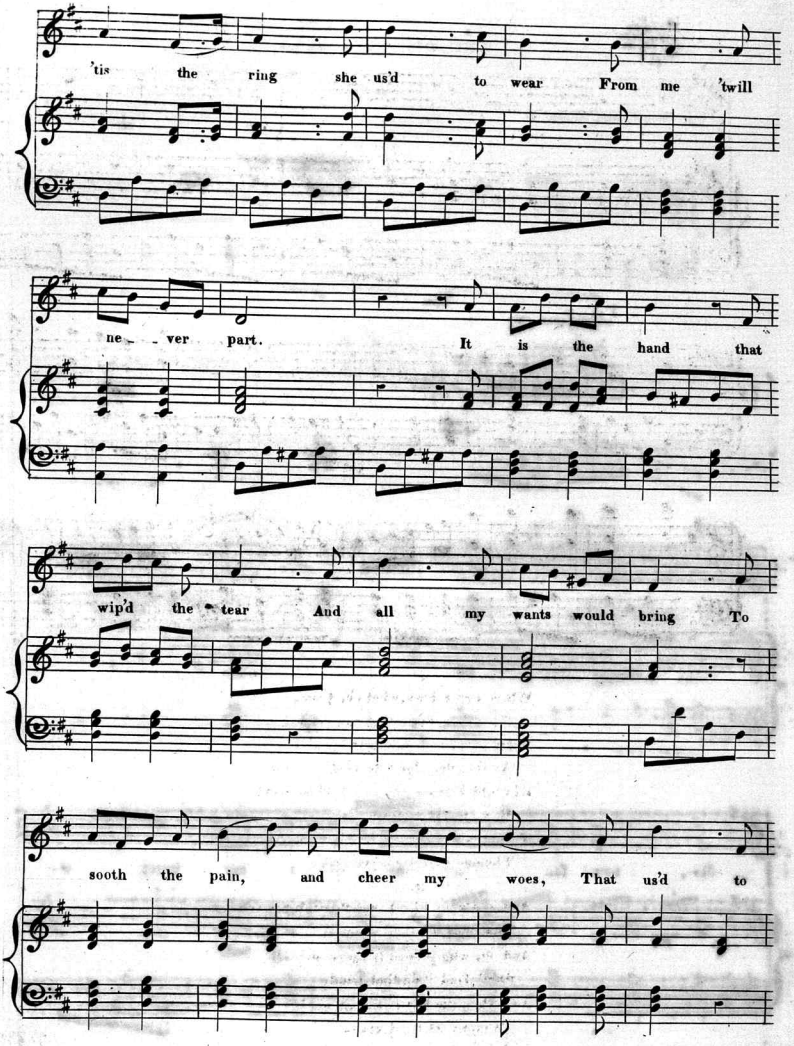
THE FAVORITE RING.

The Words and Music By L.V.H.Crosby.





'tis the ring she us'd to wear From me 'twill ne - ver part. It is the hand that wip'd the tear And all my wants would bring To sooth the pain, and cheer my woes, That us'd to 2.

Where e'er I look, what e'er I see,
There's nothing that can bring
Such sweet remembrances to me;
As that dear favorite ring.
O! could I grasp that snow white hand,
How closely would it cling
To one more rude, and rough but yet,
The one that wears her ring.

3.

And while my blood runs through my veins,
That ring shall ever stand;
And she who placed it there herself,
Shall find it on that hand.
And when the hand of death shall come
To make its final claim;
And I am laid in earth's cold grave,
There let that ring remain.
