TWO NEW SONG ALBUMS.

SIX LYRICS,

BY

E. N. ANDERSON.

PRICE, 75 CENTS NET.

No. 1. AT LOVE'S GATE.
" 2. AH! WELAWAY.
" 3. LIKE AND LIKE.
No. 4. THE LYRE AND FLOWER.
" 5. FAST ASLEEP.
" 6. REST.

Six dainty, charming songs, poetic in quality, each of them with fine melody, interesting in subjects, and songs which "sing" well. These songs are being sung by the best singers and teachers, and are among the best short lyrics we have seen from any American composer.

PRESS NOTICES.

SIX LYRICS, E. N. Anderson. A neat little volume, containing "At Love's Gate," "Ah! Welaway," "Like and Like," "Lyre and Flower," "Fast Asleep," and "Rest."

All are melodious, and not overswollen with heavy chords and strange modulations, as so many songs are at present. It is a relief to find such direct and unforced music in the modern repertoire. — Boston Musical Herald.

SIX LYRICS by E. N. Anderson. They are called: 1. "At Love's Gate"; 2. "Ah! Welaway"; 3. "Like and Like"; 4. "Lyre and Flower"; 5. "Fast Asleep"; 6. "Rest."

The text is English, and is selected from Tennyson, Goethe, Collier, and other poets. The collection is a fine one, the music being thoroughly well written, pleasing and melodious in character. Nos. 2 and 4 are exceptionally fine, and are in themselves worth more than the moderate price of the album. — American Art Journal.

Pages d'Album.

SIX FRENCH SONGS, WITH ENGLISH TRANSLATION,

BY

HENRI LOGÉ.

PRICE, 75 CENTS.

No. 1. THE DOVES.
" 2. THE LAST LEAF.
" 3. BUTTERFLIES.
No. 4. THE SWALLOW.
" 5. LOVE'S LONGING.
" 6. LOVE'S LADDER.

This set of six songs will be an addition to any singer's library. The melodies are sweet and expressive; the accompaniments are well written; and the whole tone of the songs is refined and elevated in style. They are highly recommended to either singer or teacher.

PRESS NOTICES.

PAGES D'ALBUM. A series of six songs, by the French song writer, Henri Logé, with English translation by Philip Woolf, M. D. The text is by the popular French author, Theophile Gautier. The collection is a series of musical gems, of which it is hard to say which is the best. There is a delicacy of sentiment about them all that is charming, and the harmony is often both original and piquant. These songs can be used to advantage for song recitals. — American Art Journal.

PAGES D'ALBUM, Henri Logé. This contains six songs in the French school; the songs are for medium voice, and have all the French grace and surprises of accent and rhythm. The songs are generally less difficult than those of Bizet, Chaminade, St. Saëns, and the modern French School. — Boston Musical Herald.

Henri Logé. PAGES D'ALBUM. An album of six exquisite songs, set to equally exquisite poems by Theophile Gautier. All are delightful, both in melody and sentiment, and possess that distinctive charm peculiar to the compositions of the French song writers of the present day. The accompaniments are skilfully, and in some instances brilliantly written, and deserve delicate treatment. — Music Review.
