ROBINSON CRUSOE.

By HOWARD CLIFTON.

This is a beautiful Vocal Medley, containing some seventeen different airs, giving the history of "Robinson Crusoe," in song. It is now being sung all over this country with wonderful success. Price, $1.00 per copy. For an Exhibition it cannot be beat. Send for a copy, it is full of fun.

MUSIC, SWEET MUSIC.

Words by JOHN T. RUTLEDGE. Music by H. P. DANKS.

This song and chorus is by the well known composer of some of the most popular songs in America. Its success is not to be wondered at, for, both as regards words and music, it cannot be excelled. It should be found in the possession of every lover of music. There should be no heart beating whose soul could not be stirred by the sweet strains of beautiful melody. Buy a copy and be happy—you'll never regret it as long as you live. Price, 30 cents per copy.

THE SOLITAIRE.

WORDS AND MUSIC BY J. P. SKELLY.

When the summer days are waning,
And the birds of song appear.
When softly shines the moonlight
From the sky so bright and clear,
I take my darling out for a stroll
Out on the avenue.

When the winter storms are raging
At the fireside then I'll call;
We'll talk of the past so fondly,
Every season we will review,
I hate to part, but then I must, from
The solitaire of the avenue.

A beautiful melody and in perfect keeping with the words. Has already been sung by some of our leading artists in America, with rounds of applause. Price, 30 cents per copy.

WE HAVE BEEN FRIENDS TOGETHER, JOHN.

Words by S. N. MITCHELL. Music by H. P. DANKS.

We've climed the rugged hill of life,
And shared its joy and care,
But now the frosts of many years
Are shining in our hair.

The above is a splendid baritone song, admired by everybody. It is by the same author of "Silver Threads among the Gold." We recommend every gentleman to buy a copy, and surely they will not regret. Price, 30 cents per copy.

WHILE THE MOONBEAMS ON ME FALL.

Words by T. W. HANSHEW. Music by W. A. VOEGELI.

Dearest mother, leave your heaven,
Leave those realms of love and bliss,
And upon my brow this even,
Angel mother, press one kiss.

An exquisitely beautiful song. The melody is flowing and remarkably pretty, pathetic and heartfelt—will surely give satisfaction to every purchaser. Price, 30 cents per copy.

ON THE BEAUTIFUL OHIO WALTZES.

COMPOSED BY J. F. EBRENZ.

The above waltzes are the same in style as the "Beautiful Blue Danube Waltzes," composed by Johann Strauss. Everybody seems to be perfectly delighted with them. Orchestras all over the country are having them arranged for Pic-nics, the Ball Room, and Parties. Every lover of dance music should not fail to get a copy of this fine set of waltzes. The frontice page contains an elegant lithograph of a fine view of the Ohio River, steamers moving up and down the stream, and fine scenery. Ask your music dealer to let you see a copy—and be kind enough to recommend it to your friends. Price, $1.00 per copy.

DEAR OLD HOMESTEAD.

WORDS AMD MUSIC BY MISS ANNA C. HILTS.

This song has taken a strong hold on the popular fancy. No doubt there are thousands who never forget the "Dear Old Homestead," where so many happy hours were spent in joyfulness and glee, during their childhood days. Price, 40 cents, with splendid lithograph of a country homestead.

DARLING, WON'T YOU TELL ME WHY?

Words by ALMEDA E. WRIGHT. Music by H. B. RONEY.

Can it be I am forgotten
By the one who loved but me?
Just one little word to prove thee faithful,
This is all for which I sigh,
Why have you delayed so long, so long, my darling, won't you tell me why?

CHORUS.

Won't you tell me why you've waited,
Darling, won't you tell me why?
O, why have you delayed so long, so long, my darling. won't you tell me why?

A very neat love song, by one who has evidently been there. It makes a most beautiful song for serenading purposes. Joe Murphy, the actor, has introduced it in his play, with immense success. Everybody likes it. Price, 40 cents, with fine picture title.

HEART BROKEN.

WORDS AND MUSIC BY EDDIE FOX.

This is a very pretty plaintive ballad, full of tender feeling and expression. Price, 30 cents per copy.

WHEN MY SPIRIT WAKES TO GLORY.

Arranged by C. THATCHER. Words and Music by R. GORMAN.

This is in some respects a very remarkable song. The beautiful words are wedded appropriately to a graceful flowing melody. It is one of the few that will never die. Price, 30 cents per copy.

OLD UNCLE DAN,

Words and Music by H. DUMARS.

This is one of the most beautiful negro melodies ever published in America. Sung with immense success by Milt. G. Barlow, Esq., and other popular artists of the old man negro character in the minstrel profession. The idea displayed in this elegant gem is perfectly sublime. An aged negro who has been a faithful servant on a southern plantation for more than forty years, is about dying, when he calls his master's children to his bed-side, and with tears in his eyes bids them good-bye for the last time, saying he is going to leave and will welcome them on the beautiful shore beyond. Price, 40 cents.
