But the Band Played Annie Laurie.

Words and Music by Geo. F. Golden.

All<sup>o</sup> Vivo.

Now Dan - O - Hoolihan is a great sport ing man And a jol - ly old fel low is he He's fond of a lass and he's fond of a glass And he likes to go out on a spree

But there is one certain tune that is bad luck to him And the air of it all of you know

Sure if he's playing cards and that tune is struck up He's dead sure to lose all his dough

But the Band Played Etc.

CHORUS.

2.
 One evening O'Hoolihan went to a ball
 He had a nice sociable time
 They drank to his health his freinds one and all
 When he treated to oysters and wine
 But he fell in love with a shy little girl
 He asked her upon the Q T
 If she was engaged for the next waltz
 She says no I will waltz it with thee
 CHORUS. But the band played Annie Laurie
 And O'Hoolihan didn't waltz at all
 And now he is dead sorry
 That he went to the ball

3.
 Last summer one day to the races he went
 As usual he was with the gang
 And on his own horse he bet every cent
 And the race course with excitement rang
 They started with O'Hoolihan's horse in the lead
 On his face the old rogue had a grin
 For his horse was ahead he was tickled to death
 As on him he had bet all his tin
 CHORUS. But the band played Annie Laurie
 O'Hoolihan's horse was ahead
 But the minute he heard that bum tune played
 The poor old nag dropped dead

4.
 Now O'Hoolihan swore when he found himself broke
 The gang all said it was a shame
 For his watch and his coat was in soak
 Yet no one but the tune did he blame
 He happened to meet his old friend O'Brien
 Says O'Hoolihan loan me a ten
 O'Brien wen down and pulled out a roll
 He was just going to hand it to him

CHORUS When the band played Annie Laurie
 And of course O'Hoolihan felt very sad
 Now I've told you all this story
 It was the worst luck that Dan had ever had
