2.
She came to live with us, sure chaos and w reck would be the result I fore saw, So I gave my cigars and my meerschaum, with groans, to a friend with no mother - in - law. One night as we sat by a blaz - ing wood fire, when the days had grown chilly and raw, "How co - sy and nice you would look with a pipe ! don't you smoke?" said my mother-in - law.
3.
Did my ears hear aright? yes, bless her dear heart! "Dont you smoke?" was the first happy straw to show how the wind blew and clear up the clouds, betwixt me and my moth - er - in - law. And oh, she is the kind - est, dear - est and best old darling that ev - er I saw, my moth-er I love, my wife I a - dore, But I worship my mother - in - law.
