Mrs. Tra-cey said her Tim would choke him like a rat; Ca-sey's dog made for the cat, ' he caught him by the tail; The went in mourn-ing for a month for the loss of his bull pup;

Twen-ty dol-lars were the stake the fight was to come off cat turned quick-ly, grabbed the dog stuck one foot in his eye, The Mrs. Tra-cey and her cat now have things their own way, When Thurs-day morn-ing at day-light in Ca-sey's old hay loft.

Dog let go the tail and caught the tom-cat by the thigh.
Ca-sey's out in his backyard to her tom-cat she'll say...

Chorus.

1. Sic him Jim-my, bite him Jim-my, Ca-sey'd yell all day,
 2. Sic him Jim-my, bite him Jim-my, hair be-gan to fly,
 3. Sic him Tim-my, bite him Tim-my, she yells to the cat,

In his back yard he was training his dog for the fray,
 The dog will whip him eas-y Ca-sey's friend did loud-ly cry,
 There's the cow-ard who at you once threw an old brick-bat,

Scratch him Tim-my, bite him Tim-my, shake him like a rat,
 Grab him Tim-my, good boy, Tim-my, they yelled to the cat, Ca-sey runs in to the house and, tells his broth-er Pat, As
