wilt thou still love me the dearest and best, If I come to thy own smi - ling land of the west, Wilt thou love me when years have o'er - shadow'd my brow, And its beau - ty is dimm'd as thou lovest me now, If I leave this dear home of mine own shall I be, All the world to thy bo - som as thou wilt to me? And what tho' thy skies wear love's own changeful hue, They'll be sweet if thy love doth not change like them too, And what tho' thy skies wear love's own changeful hue, They'll be sweet if thy love doth not change like them too.

2d VERSE.
Like the sun when he ri - ses in beau - ty and light, To chase far a - - - way the deep shadows of night, And dry up its tears, so my love would I be, To chase a - way sor - - - row and sad - ness from thee, And if their storm showers should fall on my Colla voce heart, Will thy smile be the sunshine to bid them de - part? Oh!
