lift our hats and cry, "Lads no - bly done!" There are hear her dar - lings lisp their eve - ning pray'r Then rings oth - er he - roes, true, When flames are creep - ing, out the wild a - larm, Grave du - ty calls him,
And we are sleep - ing, And their foe is dead - ly, What - e'er be falls him, He must go to do and too! They're not a-fraid to dare, each mother's son, On dare; He must o - bey, his comrades' fate to share, Per-hon - or's roll let's not for - get the names..... Of haps his "Good - night!" is his last good bye;..... Too boys in blue, who go to fight the flames..... oft - en, 'tis a fire - man's fate, to die.....

CHORUS
When our fire - men face their Foe,..... With its an - gry flames a - glow,..... Each heart there must be brave, There are homes that they must save; A fire-man not a sin-gle fear must know. He-roes brave, on land and sea, Guard our coun-try faith-ful-ly; He-roes too, who risk their lives For our lit-tle ones and wives, When our fire-men face their Foe.
