Sym.

Bend - ing o'er his sic - kle, 'Mid the yel - low grain,

Lo! the stur - dy reap - er, Reap - ing on the plain;.....

Sing - ing as the sic - kle gath - ers to his hand;.....

Rustling in its ripe - ness, The glo - ry of his land.

Mark the grain be - fore him Sway - ing in the wind,

And the e - ven gav - el Fol - lowing behind, Bound in armful bun - dles,

Stand - ing one by one, The eyes - ter' morn - ing's la - - bor,

Ri - pens in the sun.

Long I've stood and pon - der'd, Ga - zing from the hill,

While the stur - dy reap - er Sung and la - - bor'd still;.....

Bend - ing o'er his sic - kle, 'Mid the yel - - low grain,.....

Hap - py and con - tent - - ed Reap - ing on the plain.

And

as up-on my jour - - ney I leave the ma - ple tree,

Think - ing of the dif - fer - ence Be - tween the man and me; I turn a - gain to see him Reap - ing on the plain, And al - most wish my la - bor Were the sic - kle and the grain.
