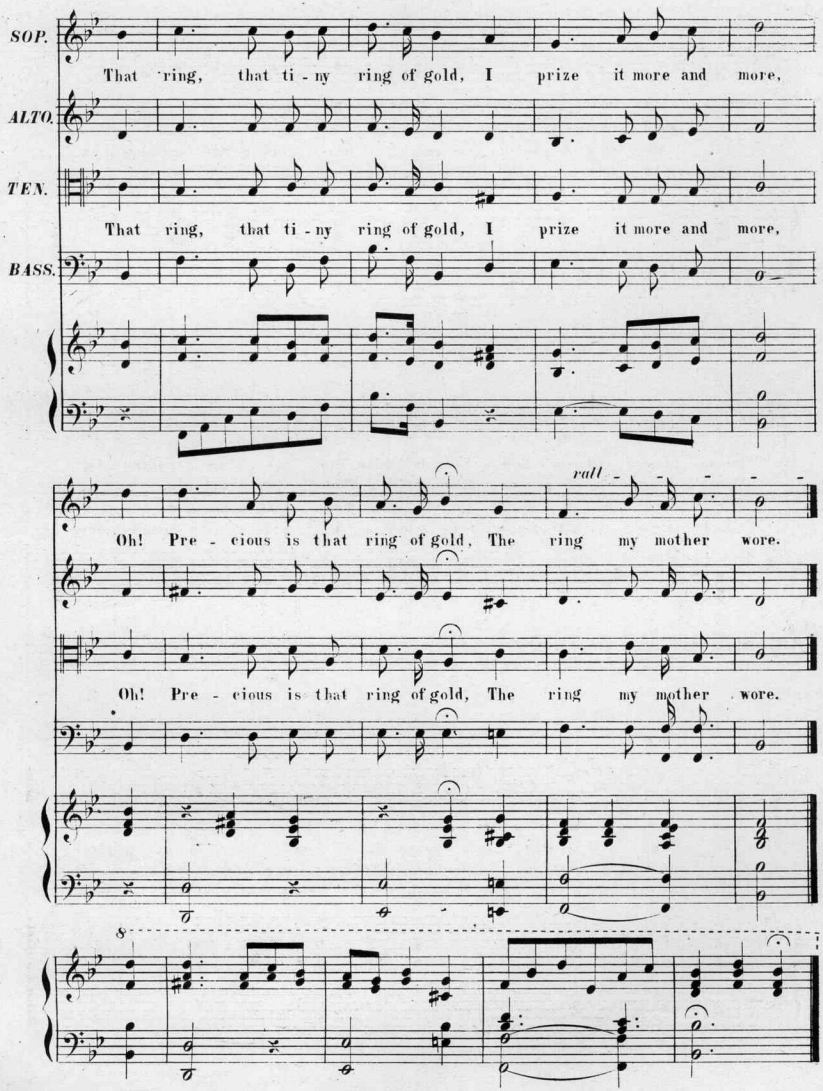
Than all the gems of a ny land, At home or o'er the sea,
As moth - er smoothes the locks of gold That grace my boyish brow,
On one there shone con - tin-ual - ly The bri - dal ring each day,
Re - minds me of the scenes of old With moth - er ev - er near,
'Twas placed up - on her fin - ger white, Her joy - ous wedding day,
When e'er she clasped my childish form With - in her fond em - brace,
More dear, more dear, more precious far Than all the gems of earth,
And since she left me here to weep, I prize it more and more,
rall - - - - - -
To nes - tle sweet-ly day and night Un - til she passed a - way.
The ring up - on that hand so warm Was ev - er in its place.
Is that dear ring my mother wore Through scenes - of woe and mirth.
And near my heart of hearts I keep The ring my mother wore.



SOP.
That ring, that ti - ny ring of gold, I prize it more and more,
ALTO.
TEN.
That ring, that ti - ny ring of gold, I prize it more and more,
BASS.
rall
Oh! Pre - cious is that ring of gold, The ring my mother wore.
Oh! Pre - cious is that ring of gold, The ring my mother wore.
