

THE GREAT ESCAPE MARCH

By Sylvia Fine and
Elmer Bernstein

Buddy ... your nose is bloody

Mister ... you've got a blister

Forget it soldier

It's like I told ya

Just raise up your glass and drink it down

CHO: Pick up your marbles and begin again

Grin again

And you'll be in again

Though you're a loser, you can win again

Raise up your glass and drink it down

Hey Jack ... we're on the way, Jack

Vernon ... the tide is turnin'

And if the future

Should fail to suit ya

Just raise up your glass and drink it down

Pick up your marbles and begin again

Grin again

And you'll be in again

Though you're a loser, you can win again

Raise up your glass

For this too will pass

Raise up your glass and drink it down