HARRY ELLIS DICKSON
Symphony Hall
BOSTON

February 3, 1959

Dear Danny,

During the dinner last night Sir John and Munch were talking about you, and when Barbirolli said, "I am told he is a good conductor", Munch said, "Good? He is the greatest! "

I purposely kept the reading of your telegram for the last, and when I said we have a message from one of our colleagues on the west coast, and began, "Dear Chuck", Munch shouted "Dear Danny!"

He was very touched, as were we all to hear from you. Thank you so much.

Barbirolli told us about seeing you in New York recently. It seems you're always just missing us when we are there.

What happened with the Chicago conducting job? No work this season? You'll lose your touch. I hope you're at least studying some new scores.

Chuck sends his love as do we all.

Sincerely,

Harry

Sir John tells me he's going to see you in San Francisco. Wish I could be there -

*Good luck -
Herchel*
