Toni Arden makes a clean sweep of activity in every branch of show business as the much-in-demand young singer goes from a singing stint on TV's "Songs For Sale" to her first engagement at the New York Paramount Theater and simultaneously releases two wonderful new records in "I'll Hold You In My Heart" backed by "The Day Isn't Long Enough" and "If You Turn Me Down" coupled with "Invitation To A Broken Heart"...

Danny Kaye's "I'm Late" and "Ballin' The Jack" are still riding high as the nation's number one song-and-dance-man comes out with a hilarious version of "How Do You Do And Shake Hands" with "Black Strap Molasses" on the reverse. Danny is joined by an all-star troupe. "Shake Hands" by the way, like his "I'm Late", is from "Alice In Wonderland"... Spike Jones has all music business cheering for him as he injects new life into the beautiful "Too Young" in a riotous rendition that delights everyone. Spike's "I Wonder Where My Baby Is Tonight" is being featured on radio shows that go for Charleston-styled music... Wedding bells ring for Irving Fields as the leader of the famous trio marries Jane Ferdinand, non-professional, at the Waldorf-Astoria on August 26. Disc jockeys currently are helping Fields celebrate with liberal playing on his latest record, "Flamingo Fantasy" and "Sunshine Kisses".. Helen Grayco's "'Twas Brillig" in for an increasing amount of national attention as music reviewers all over America call her "one of today's great female voices in the popular music field".
