My dear Sylvia,

We, Barbara and I, had hardly returned home, after the Sinatra concert, where we hesitantly asked you if it were possible to obtain tapes of your two delightful shows, when by God ..... must have been by God ..... plus you, of course ..... they arrived.

Unusually talented people, such as your rare self, are seldom inclined to remember a request; muchless to satisfy it; especially with such dispatch.

You're a dear kind thoughtful much appreciated, and organized, friend. Thank you. Those tapes will be seen at happy leisure this coming weekend and shown only to the closest of friends here at this house on the hill - to which you must, and should, come to see us whenever you're so inclined. It's a mere three minutes up the hill practically behind where you live. We'll call you to effect that very soon, Sylvia.

Meanwhile, and always, Barbara joins me in sending you and Danny much affection.

Gratefully,

Cary
