EDDIE FOY, JR. AND MARY TYLER MOORE BRING TOUCH OF VAUDEVILLE AND GLAMOUR TO "THE DANNY KAYE SHOW" WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 16

Veteran hooper Eddie Foy, Jr. unlimbers his soft-shoe talents and Mary Tyler Moore displays her shapely terpsichorean ability when the two join Danny Kaye for an hour of comedy, songs and dances on "The Danny Kaye Show," Wednesday, Oct. 16 (10:00-11:00 PM, EDT) on the CBS Television Network.

Danny opens the comedy-variety show with a song standard, "S'posin'," with a bit of by-play from two overly affectionate microphones. Danny and guest Mary Tyler Moore then play husband and wife in a comedy sketch on a domestic problem as it might be met in three different lands - America, France and Japan.

Eddie Foy, Jr., inimitable song-and-dance man, then joins Danny center stage for a bit of banter to introduce a dance production number by Eddie and four ladies from the Tony Charmoli Dancers as Eddie sings and hoofs to "Delightful Is The Word."

In a presentation far removed from her wifely role on "The Dick Van Dyke Show," Miss Moore then belts out "Hard Hearted Hannah," and fast-steps a stylized dance accompanied by four male dancers.

NEWS

In an original song number, Danny and the Johnny Mann Singers join for musical comment on the telephone numbering system. Then, in a Talent Playhouse comedy sketch, "Saturday Is A Rotten Person," a soggy saga of Gypsy life and romance, Danny and Eddie compete for the hand of the tempestuous Miss Moore.

For the finale, Danny comes center stage for a touch of show business nostalgia as he sings "Song And Dance Man," while dance team Foy & Moore take to the background stage for a series of soft-shoe routines to Danny's singing.

"The Danny Kaye Show," sponsored on alternate weeks by The Armstrong Cork Company, is produced by Perry Lafferty and directed by Robert Scheerer, with Herb Bonis as production supervisor.
