as he draws her to his side, We hear him gent - ly say:
all these sad and lone - ly years, You're all the joy I've had."
though her head is bowed with grief, She hears that sweet re - frain.
CHORUS - Cheerfully
"Cheer up, moth - er, don't be sad, 'Tis hard to see you cry, Our coun-try needs me as you know, I now must say good-bye. May cresc.
guar - dian an - gels watch o'er you, I know they'll care for me, And rit.
when I come back home a-gain, How glad, how proud you'll be."
