ILSON'S PREVIOUS VISITS TO BOSTON

me Here Three Times During the 1912 Presidential Campaign

By M. E. HENNESSY

dent Wilson is no stranger to

As an educator and a public has been here many times, for some public or educa- nuse. In his political capacity, andidate for office, he made rips to Massachusetts in the n of 1912, when he won his mination for the Presidency. ears before, Mr Wilson came one of the delegates from n University to attend the ation of Pres Lowell of Harampaign for the Democratic tial nomination was in full January, 1912, when Mr Wil- ernor of New Jersey, came to speak at the Real Estate e dinner, the City Club, and ers of the Harvard Demo- ub.

a Lone Taxicab Driver

Ilson arrived at 6:30 a m from the train to the Hotel where he breakfasted. No committeemen with big their manly bosoms were o welcome him. That honor ved for a lone taxicab driv- Back Bay station. After a committee of the Real change called at the hotel n and assure him that he e a fine, representative au- their dinner.

s was threatening to be- ndidate for the Democratic al nomination, but the as the Democratic poli- d to call him, was back- ing and see-sawing on the First he was a candidate, sn't. He was in again and and he kept everybody ut that didn't prevent Vilson calling at the State y his respects. He called m and had a long con- at with the Massachu- nor. The "Old Boy" pilot- t the State House and the betterment of a city." More compliments followed.

He told the real estate men that he was not going to talk politics to them, but that he would discuss public questions. He took up the conservation problem, trade and tariff and finally the Merchant Marine. He concluded his speech with this eloquent peroration, which was greeted with deafening applause:

"The flag of the United States, in my judgment, consists of alternate strips of white parchment upon which are written the aspirations of men, and streams of blood poured out to verify their hope, and in the corner of that flag sparkle the stars of those States that have one after the other swung into the firmament to show that there is a God in Heaven, that men will not abandon hope so long as they have confidence in the God of righteousness, the God of justice, the God of liberty."

Woodrow Wilson League

Gov Wilson's campaign managers took heart after his first political appearance here and got busy. A Woodrow Wilson League was started and a Wilson headquarters was opened in the Kimball Building with Hon William S. McNary in charge. The State and city machines were tied up to the candidacy of Speaker Champ Clark, and although Gov Wilson's supporters made an active and lively campaign, they did not win any delegates.

He came again three months later to plead his own cause before the Democrats of the State. He made no bones about saying that he wanted the delegates from Massachusetts. The Woodrow Wilson Club of Harvard marched over from Cambridge and made a noisy demonstration outside Tremont Temple, where Mr Wilson delivered his Boston speech.

Speeches as a Candidate

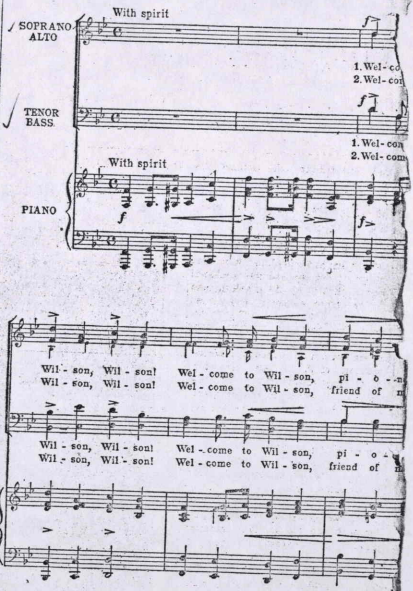
After Wilson's nomination Nation-

SONG WRITTEN FOR TH

MAR 22 1919 ©CLE445438 KATHARIN

WELCOME TO WILSON!

KATHARINE LEE BATES ROBER



The small notes for second alto are for school use.

Copyright MCMXIX by Oliver Ditson Company

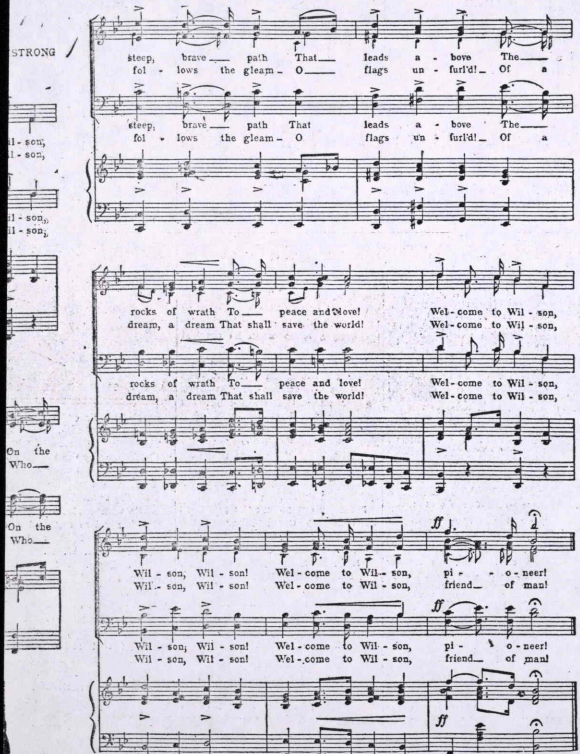
11646

A Armstrong, Robert

PRESIDENT HAS NEW GRANDSON NAMED WOODROW WILSON SAYRE

454626

CCASION BY PROFESSOR
E BATES OF WELLESLEY COLLEGE

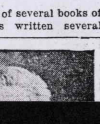


IDENT WILSON'S
P NEAR DISASTER

ued From the First Page.

Admiration for President Wilson and enthusiasm concerning his success in forming the League of Nations was the force which moved Katharine Lee Bates, professor of English literature at Wellesley College, to write a song of greeting to

is also the author of several books of poetry. She has written several



TO BURN WILSON'S SPEECH ON COMMON

Suffragists Lack Permit, but Plan Meeting

Will Also Try to Display Banners in Front of State House

Plans for the suffrage demonstration to be staged by the National Woman's Party during President Wilson's stay in Boston were announced last night by Miss Alice Paul, the National chairman, who arrived from Washington yesterday. The demonstration is to include a lineup of women carrying suffrage banners in front of the State House revieweing stand and a protest meeting on the Common at which the President's address will be burned. Miss Paul said the women will resist any attempt by the police to interfere.

The meeting on the Common will be held while the President is speaking at Mechanic's Building. Miss Paul said members of the organization would relay parts of the President's address to the Parkman Bandstand. The portions of the address will be burned in a torch especially provided for the purpose as fast as received. No permit has been received from City Hall for the use of the bandstand, but Miss Paul said that the party would try to avoid the meeting anyway.

The meeting will be preceded by the lineup in front of the reviewing stand. Shortly before the Presidential procession swings into Park st some 40 women, carrying the American flag, the suffrage flag and lettered banners calling for "freedom for women" will march out of the party headquarters at 9 Park st and will attempt to take their places on the street. Miss Paul said that the women will refuse to obey if the police order them to move on. She declared that they had a right to the position.

When the President has passed they will march to the bandstand. Miss Paul declined to say what would be done if they are prevented by the police from carrying out the plan, but said that in such a case a substitute demonstration would be held. She said she had no knowledge of any plan to heckle the President during his address. Suffrage papers and pamphlets will be sold throughout the city.

"We hope to force the President to push through the Suffrage amendment while he is in Washington," said Miss Paul. "There is still time. We shall not attempt to speak to him during his stay here. Similar demonstrations will be held in Washington during the week."

Miss Paul said that the following women, besides herself, would be among those to take part in the demonstration at the State House: Miss Elsie Hill, daughter of Congressman Hill of Connecticut; Miss Betty Gram of Portland, Or; Miss Ruth Small of Newton Highlands, Mrs Jessica Henderson of Wayland, Miss Wilma Henderson, Miss Lou Daniels of Boston, Miss Berry Potter of Boston, Mrs Katherine Morey of Brookline, Mrs Frederick Sykes of Cambridge and Mrs Catherine Nelison of Boston.

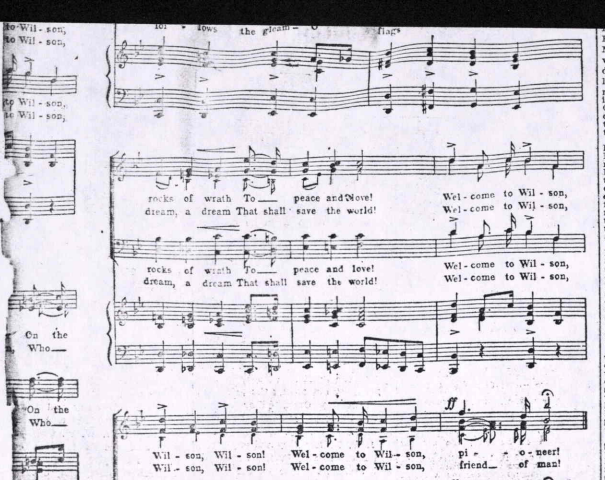
SUFFRAGISTS "WOULDN'T HARM PRESIDENT," THEY SAY

"We would not harm or try to harm a hair of President Wilson's head," was the official message sent Gen Edwards by suffragists yesterday from the spokesman of the suffragists' committee.

"I didn't think you would," replied Gen Edwards.

"But we are telling you because we said so in the newspapers; we thought you said, 'I guess the United States Army can take care of any such necessary.'"

"I never said anything of the kind," said Gen Edwards, who also made his only public statement or



IDENT WILSON'S IP NEAR DISASTER

ued From the First Page.

...ning on dead reckoning, ... destroyer Harding as a ...head.

...he Harding's lookou...

...arth across ...

...Aston's bow. The wind was ...ward and the sound was carried ...f from the George Washington ...ead of toward her.

...he Washington's deck officer, ...lever, saw the five jets of steam ...m the Harding's whistle and, giv... three short blasts of the big ...r's whistle, signalled the engine... for full speed astern.

...he big ship trembled and quivered ...d the throbbing of the mighty en... as they churned the water, and ...e was the first intimation any of ...passengers and most of the crew ...of what was going on.

...was coming to Boston ... down and wrote the song," said Prof. Bates. "I wished to express my appreciation for the wonderful work he has done in France."

Prof Bates is known to music lovers as the author of "America, the Beautiful," a patriotic hymn, which has been much sung during the war, especially at church services. She funnels, but she had hardly started when the wind shifted and drove the snow flurry off to the north, the fog lifted and one of the officers perched on the upper deck sang out:

"Thachers Island dead ahead!"

Admiration for President Wilson and enthusiasm concerning his success in forming the League of Nations was the force which moved Katharine Lee Bates, professor of English literature at Wellesley College, to write a song of greeting to the Chief Executive on his return to this country. The song is called "Welcome to Wilson" and is published by Oliver Ditson Company. The music is by R... F. Armstrong.

is also the author of several books of poetry. She has written several books of prose and is the editor of many editions of famous works. She is a native of Massachusetts, having been born at Falmouth.

PROF KATHARINE LEE BATES

NATION EAGER FOR PRESIDENT'S SPEECH

Waits His Latest Views on

...Boston were announced ... Miss Alice Paul, the Nati... who arrived from Was... day. The demonstration ... lineup of women carrying ... pers in front of the State ... ing stand and a protest ... Common at which the ... dress will be burned. ... the women will resist a... the police to interfere.

The meeting on the C... held while the President ... Mechanic's Building. ... members of the organiz... lay parts of the Preside... the Parkman Bandstand ... of the address will be bu... especially provided for ... fast as received. No p... received from City Hall ... the bandstand, but Miss ... the party would try to h... anyway.

The meeting will be p... lineup in front of the r... Shortly before the Pres... sion swings into Park s... en, carrying the Americ... frage flag and lettered ... for "freedom for wom... out of the party headqu... st and will attempt to t... on the street. Miss Pa... women will refuse to ob... order them to move o... that they had a right to ...

When the President l... will march to the bands... declined to say what w... they are prevented by ... carrying out the plan, ... such a case a substitut... would be held. She s... knowledge of any plan ... President during his a... papers and pamphlets ... throughout the city.

"We hope to force t... push through the Suff... while he is in Washing... Paul. "There will ... not attempt to speak to ... stay here. Similar dem... be held in Washingt... week."

Miss Paul said tha... women, besides here ... among those to take pa... stration at the State H... Hill, daughter of Conn... Connecticut; Miss Bert... land, Or.; Miss Ruth P... Highlands, Mrs. Jessie ... Wayland, Miss Wilma ... Lou Daniels of Boston, ... ter of Boston, Mrs Ka... Brookline, Mrs. Freder... bridge and Mrs Cath... Boston.

SUFFRAGISTS "WO... HARM PRESIDEN...

"We would not harm ... a hair of President Wi... the official message s... by telephone yesterday ... man of the suffragists ... "I didn't think you ... Gen. Edwards.

"But we are telling ... said so in the newspa... you said. 'I guess t... Army can take care of ... necessary.'"

"I never said anyth... said Gen Edwards, wa... his only public statem... eral subject was that ... New England are the ... guard while he is in ... was sure of that.

Then, after an exch... compliments, the con...

President Wilson's se... P. Tumulty, attended ... yesterday morning ... Church on Circuit st., R... accompanied by United ... Joseph T. Lyons, a pa... cratic Committeeman J... ll of Fall River and ... Not many of the con... nized Mr Tumulty.

After the mass the pa... to the rectory by Rev... Ring, one of the curat... After meeting Rev Fr. ... and the other clergym... the party departed fro... residence on Regent ... Rev Msgr M. J. Splain... rector of the church, is

WOMEN WORKER... TALK WITH...

It was stated yesterd... United States Senato... Walsh has arranged ... President Wilson for ... ...ssing the WOMEN...