

JUL 13 1918

"SOON AS I GET BILL KAISER'S HEAD
I'LL BE BACK HOME YOU JUST BET"

FIGHTING THE HUN

Words and Music by

E. LORNE AIKIN.

Published by E. L. AIKIN,
410 Lincoln Inn Court Bldg.
CINCINNATI, OHIO, U.S.A.

M1046
A

FIGHTING THE HUN

Words and Music by
E. LORNE AIKIN

March time

f

TILL READY

mf

The world seemssad and drea-ry, Since Sam-mie went a - Our door-bell rangtoday at noon It filld my heart with way He was so bright and cheer-y To do what-er he may. I'll ne'er for-get his joy The post-man said in a merrytune A let-ter from your boy. I o-pen'd it, here's smil-ing face As when I kiss'd our son I watch'd him as he kept in pace Off to fightthat aw-ful Hun.

what it said, "Dearmother, don't you fret, Soon as I get Bill Kaiser'shead I'll be backhomeyou bet?"

CHORUS

For he's fight-ing the Hun with a new Browning gun, Some - where in France But I'll not get lose-ly, if he will on - ly Write at ev - ery chance. — For we love him our boy And it fills us with joy To know that he is one — Who is fight-ing the Hun till the vic-t'ry is won And the Kai - ser is on the run. — For he's run. —

434740