Lay down the play - in! and take up the hoe, For Now comes our tri - al, for this is our test, So that is the way to make things grow; The life of the world, will now show us the ground, we'll do the rest; The eyes of the world, will look be at stake, The best way to help, is with hoe and rake.

out 'tis true, Up - on these brave boys, and what they will do.

Chorus.

Boys in the trenches can-not fight, you know, With-out the boys at home with the hoe;

For sharp is the hoe, and straight is the row, Where the Boy Scouts go, 'tis hoe, hoe, hoe! Feed-ing the soldiers, ev-ry Scout should know, Means the boys at home must hoe, hoe, hoe! The way to make a hit, is to hoe your "lit-tle bit," Hoe your "lit-tle bit," in your own back yard. yard.

SCOUT MASTERS WANTED

For the Boy Scouts of America

The song, "HOE YOUR 'LITTLE BIT' IN YOUR OWN BACK YARD" is dedicated to the Boy Scouts of America in appreciation of their patriotic response to the country's call in this time of National crisis.

The Boy Scout is never in doubt as to his duty when Uncle Sam needs him. On June 15, 1916, the United States Government passed a special act of Congress, recognizing the value of the Boy Scout Movement. All boys over 12 years are eligible.

Uncle Sam now has 300,000 men and boys in this Movement. There are 8,000,000 live, red-blooded American boys who are eager to become Scouts. They need leaders, Scoutmasters.

Are you an honest, true-hearted American, a clean, straight, honorable man? If so, you fit the job of Scoutmaster.

Your duty to your country, next to active military service, is to lead a group of Boy Scouts. Do your "bit" for Uncle Sam.
