Say! did you hear the drum and fife? 'Twas Yankee land, a - com-in' to life. So the rest of the world shall not be cannon'd, Sing Neath's England's Land! They're fight-ing now, For the youngsters born at the "Lowly Row," for Lon-d- than was English, Irish,

Ger-man-y be-gins With fright-ful-nesse to lie us all. To "Made in Ger-man-y" fins This Scotch and Welch, when he Controlled the British Col-o-nies Where Free-dom chanced to be. There, fright-ful ness is "or-ders" from the Kai-serls Junker Crowd. That gives the call to Uncle Sam to knock this tanker Free-doms Child came borning, On the day John Bull was cross When he says to Brother Jon-a-than, I'll show you who's the boat. So Sea-way Right the Nation, And Treaty Right, Marine, And Society, Humane Right and Rules Wounded Right (christine) You-a- suffrage Right the Boss. So ev-er each the Red Coat, - Peoples Rights were shut, That had no voter, like, hem-ers rights was nothing to hurt. "Rule" Oh a life like this is Never find, ship-law Right the thing, And Heart-land Right the soldier, Fling their face in the mind, But they're crossing the water with the rest of the craven, Said Uncle Sam, one day! — Death is bet-ter, Again, So were going to Freeka-way! So he took Yankee - Doodle, Freedoms man, from the world To where the Jans in hu-man-i-ty, ver-es, This mighty Yankee touch, and a mighty Yankee lunch, That will land on the mans soles soul, find Freedoms Friends, who would help if had need 'em, Though trials, trust and strife, and pri-vat-ions what a life, To win a home for "Little Ship and
