© CI E589038
JUN -4 1924

AMERICAN LEGION

MARCH SONG

ONE HUNDRED PERCENT AMERICAN

FOX TROT

By
W. D. MALONE.

Price 50 cents

Published by
THE COMPOSER
CATLETTSBURG, KY

M1646
.M

Dedicated to The American Legion

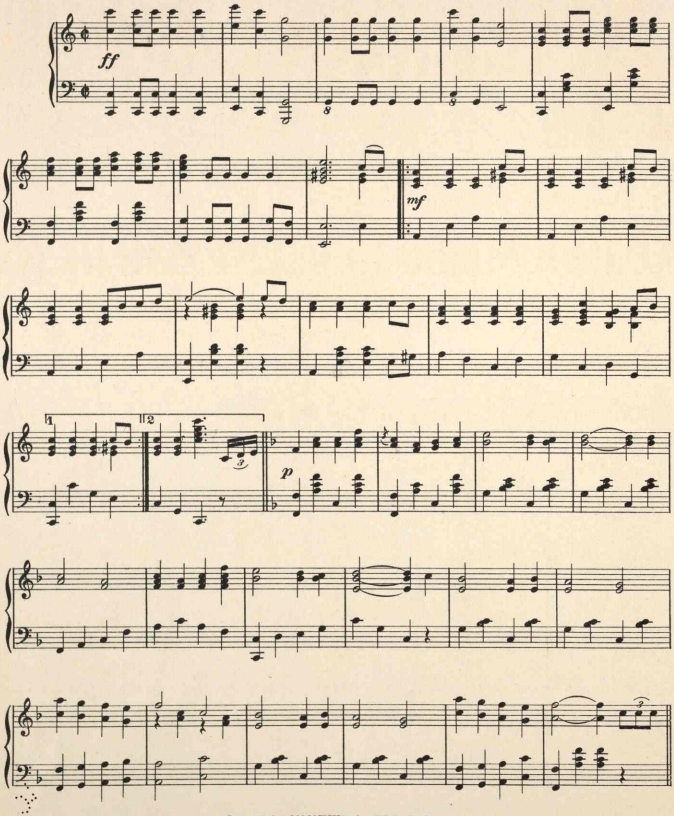
American Legion March Song

"One Hundred Percent American"

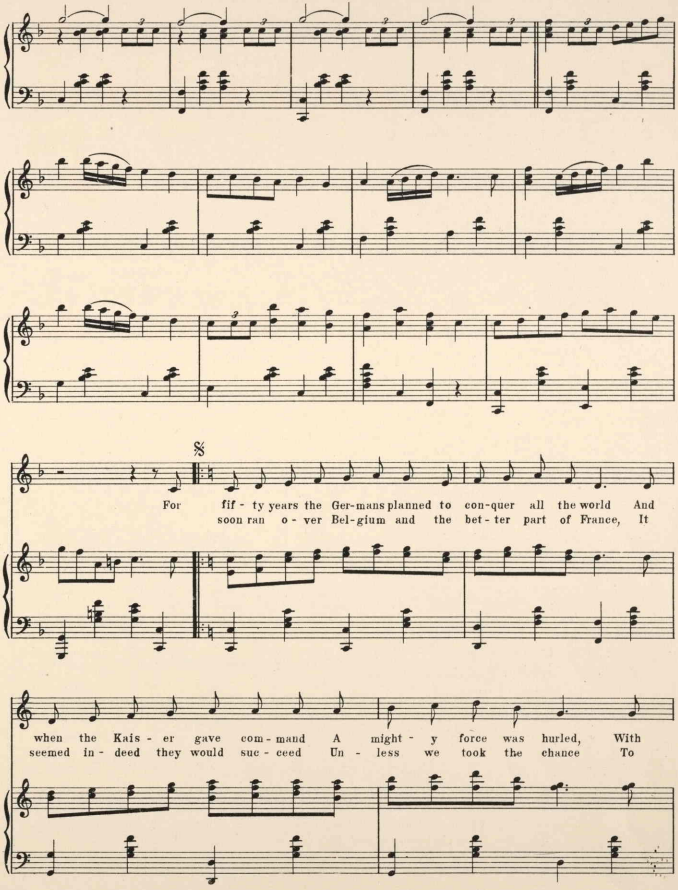
FOX TROT

W. D. MALONE
Arr. by C. L. Lewis

Tempo di Marcia



Copyright MCMXXIV by W. D. Malone.
Printed in the U. S. A.



For fif - ty years the Ger-mans planned to con-quer all the world And soon ran o - ver Bel-gium and the bet - ter part of France, It when the Kais - er gave com - mand A might - y force was hurled, With seemed in - deed they would suc - ceed Un - less we took the chance To gas or guns in col - umns thick, and ban - ners raised on high, They have our Un - cle Sam to state if an - y reas - on why, That start - ed out at dou - ble quick, Their blood - y schemes to try.

we should long - er hes - i - tate To stand for right or die.
2. They
3. Our Un - cle said he'd call their trick and with a heart - y vim, He raised a su - per arm - y quick, of spic and span and trim, He put them on his o - cean boats And crossed the great big dam And

Zimmerman Print
Cincinnati, Ohio

American Legion March Song

4.

Right on they pushed into the fight
In time to save the day
And whipped the guards of frenzied might
In regular U. S. way,
And Freedom made a debt that day
She never can fulfill
Unless in precious mem' ry of
Her brave at Chateau Hill.

CHORUS

To be sung after the Third Fourth and Fifth Verses.

Hurrah, three cheers! Our country has the boys
"For singing or for fighting and for keeping up a noise.
The whole Yankee Nation {was / is}* keeping up the cry.
"For freedom and humanity we battle till we die!"

5.

At St. Mihiel with pointed steel,
They drove the Germans out,
In woods Ballou, with courage true,
They put the foe to rout;
And at the Marne and in Argonne,
They Fired but not to miss,
Until the Germans threw up hands
And Cried out "Armistice."

6.

But now the war is over and
The Kaiser's not at home,
He had to leave his native land
And make a refuge roam,
And in his mind things are revolved,
But of one he'd never thought
That the partnership could be dissolved
Between "Meinself und Gott."

585903