LYRICS FOR "MY SOLDIER"
by
Jonas A. Rosenfield.

VERSES.

My soldier boy is leaving me.
His country calls him o'er the sea--
My soldier, my hero;
He goes to fight for flag and freedom.
Cannon's roar of dreadful death
Is hushed when with his whispered breath
My soldier tells his love.
: : :: :: ::
My soldier boy when you return
My heart for you with love will burn--
My lover, my champion,
No slacker-blood beats in your heart-throbs.
Close within your strong embrace
My soul finds there its resting place
In arms that fight for Right.
: : : : :: ::
C H O R U S.
Sail on ! sail on ! in weather both foul and fair.
Lead on ! lead on ! to Victory that waits you there.
Hold fast ! hold fast ! until at the last you dare
The stars and stripes to glory bear---
My soldier boy-----life's greatest joy--
When you come sailing,
Come homeward sailing to me from Victory.

OPTIONAL VERSES FOR MALE VOICE.

My little girl when I return
My heart for you with love will burn--
My sweetheart, my brave one,
I need no service stripes for glory.
What care I for martial arms
When I am master of thy charms
And captain of thy heart ?
: : : : : : :
My little girl when I return
My heart for you with love will burn--
My sweetheart, my brave one;
No slacker-blood beats in our heart-throbs.
Close within my strong embrace
I'll find reward in your sweet face
Whose eyes tell tales of love.
