Old Glory's Return

Beloved Flag, we greet thee!
On thy return from France.
A hundred millions meet thee
To cheer thy proud advance.
Thy stars and stripes
Were wondrous fair
The day thou sailed away,
But never did thy glory shine
So brightly as today.

All hail to thee! beloved Flag,
That crossed the stormy sea
To strike the bands
From shackled hands
And set all races free.

Beloved Flag, we bless thee!
For deeds so bravely done.
Both friends and foes caress thee.
Thy power has made them one.
A cheer for boys
That bear thee home
With victor shouts of glee.
A tear for boys that sleep in France
And could not come with thee.

All hail to thee! beloved Flag,
That crossed the stormy sea
To strike the bands
From shackled hands
And set all races free.
