must have come to ev'- ry moth-er's son, For this is the rea - son why.
man - i - ty, on land and on the sea, And that's why we're glad to - day.
CHORUS
On No-vem-ber e-lev-en in the morning, It was ear-ly be-fore the break of day. The bells had started ring-ing, The people soon were singing, Parades were forming up and down the way. Ev'ry step I took that day, Something in me seemd to say, This world's a decent place to live in, gee! I want-ed to shake the pp hand of ev'ry Yankee boy in the land. For that's the feeling that came over me. On No- me.
