When I Gave My Daddy.

ROLAND BATHORNE.
Andante semplice.

THEO. S. REIMESAD.

1. When I gave my dad - dy, when he
 2. When I gave my dad - dy, thought he'd 3. When I gave my dad - dy, as he
 4. When I gave my dad - dy, moth - er
 5. When I gave my dad - dy, when he said good-by. He kissed my curls and stroked my brow,— And tipped my chin up high. And speak of war And those brave things the sol - diers do,— And what they're fight - ing for! But went that day. He waved his hand and called to me,— "He good while I'm a way!" And nev - er said A sin - gle, sin - gle word, un - til She kissed me in my bed! But said good-by. And smiled at me so cheer - ful - ly,— And tipped my chin up high, You'd smiled at me so cheer - ful - ly.— I nev - er thought to cry, all he told me was: "You're like Your moth - er, more and more!"

 those were real - ly all the things My dad - dy had to say, then she cried out dad - die's name, And point - ed to - ver - head, nev - er, nev - er think that he Had gone, per - haps to die.
