VOICE

mf Moth-er mine, don't sigh, tho' we say good-bye, sis-ter dear, wipe your tears a-way. Tho' I'm Now, there's old Grand-Dad, who when but a lad, rushed to arms at his coun-try's call. He is off to war with a mill-ion more, yet I know I'll re-turn one day. And while with us still, so is Un-cle Will, who was there at Ma-nil-a's fall. So dear some must fall, yet the most of all will be spared thro' the might-y fray, hearts don't grieve, tho' we have to leave, for we can't all stay "o-ver there"

So dears, smile and dry your tears, and cheer us up on our way.
Cast doubt, fear and trem-bling out and hold on-ly hope and pray'r.

CHORUS

p We're go - ing o-ver and we're com - ing back, with a smile on our fa - ces.

mf too, Dear moth - ers, sis - ters, sweet-hearts, wives, we sure will come

mf

mf back to you. So, say good-bye with fa - ces bright and smil - ing as you

mf

f know we'd have you do, And when the war is o-ver and we've done our

p

mf du - ty, we'll come back to you. We're you.
