

Professional Demonstrating Copy

The performing rights of this number are released to vaudeville, dramatic, & musical artists
and to those who desire to use
same for professional use.

MUSIC PUBLISHERS & MANUFACTURERS of PHONOGRAPH RECORDS & MUSIC ROLLS:

The owner of the copyright, whose name and address appears on page two of this copy, will be glad to consider the best offer you may see fit to make for the publication rights, by outright purchase, or under royalty contract.

This song was either Composed, Arranged, Copyrighted or Printed by the-
AUTHORS & COMPOSERS SERVICE CO., 1433 BROADWAY, N. Y. CITY

APR 18 1919

Since The Yanks Sailed 'Cross The Sea

Words by
Wm. D. Armour

Music by
J. W. Key

Voice

Kaiser Bill sure was a sport, But his hair has turned quite gray.
When the Yanks started in to yank, Kaiser Bill then lost his Throne.

Since the Yanks come
He soon stored his sailing from the good old U. S. A., When in France they joined the Frenchies, And crown a way and start-ed off to roam. For he saw the Yanks and Frenchmen, Were start-ed on the run Old Bill gave up all hope and said: It's good night with the made of the real stuff, And if he'd hang a round for long, He'd sure be handled Copyrighted 1919 by Wm. D. Armour, 717 Fairview Ave., Butler, Pa.

Chorus

The musical score consists of five systems, each with a vocal line and piano accompaniment. The vocal line is written in a single staff with a treble clef and a 2/4 time signature. The piano accompaniment is written in two staves, with the right hand in a treble clef and the left hand in a bass clef. The key signature has one sharp (F#). The lyrics are written below the vocal line.

Hun. — Since the Yanks wound up the Watch on the Rhine, And raised the Red, White and rough —

Blue — Kaiser Bill sur got in a hur ry. — To get out of the few — Ev'ry night he sings, There is no place like home, But where is a home for me?

I sure have had the life of a dog, since the Yanks sailed across the sea.