Marcia

It is of a cru-el Kai - ser, If you'll list-en to me please, Vile mur-der - er and Mil - lions of homes this villain wrecked, Mil - lions of lives were slain, Death and destruction
Oh the Lus-i - tan-ia hor - ror, It makes my blood feel cold, And all my bod-y This monster of in - i - quity He did no mer-cy show, And not a grain of Oh, the world most all in mourning cast. Sad sor-row, grief and pain. I hope suchwars are Then all the na-tions of the earth Will al-ways hap-py be With joy and gladness, And then rights and justice will prevail With the brother-hood of man, And well all love our plun - der - er, Arch pir - ate, of the seas, And of ev - 'ry Hun and van - dal He went un - checked, 'Twas ter - ror's fright-ful reign, For the child whom in its cra - dle lay, The shud - der To think of young and old Whom per - ished in deep wa - ter By pit - ty On his victims did be - stow. De - fil - ing women's hon - or, Too gone and past, And ne'er will oc - cur a - gain; But that peace on earth, good will to man Will
