Two lit-tle, lad-dies were play - ing On a bright and a sum-mer Mayday. Joe Lad - die Boy, lad-die boy You're a good lit-tle friend to me, And says to Dick 'I've been fish - ing, Oh, please don't tell moth-er on me, moth-er's so sad while her lads so bad To be found at this brook.

'No! says Joe, you're a strang lit-tle lad, You're as bad as bad can be, My With hands full of hooks it is as plain as plain can be 'Tis a heart is so sad for the deed is so bad, I don't want to tell mother on thee, long sha-dy lane and a bright sum-mer day That leads to this won-der-ful brook.

CHORUS

Lad-die Boy, lad-die boy, Come, oh list-en to me.

Bird-ies are sing-ing the sweet scented breezes, Flowrs are bloom-ing and fall-ing with fra-grance,

Come, oh list-en to me, — Come, oh list-en to me. — me.
