"My Boy in Blue."

Words by Frank O. Coolidge.

I.

Smile little girl, do not feel so sad,
My thoughts will be of you,
After the war, we will all be glad,
And proud of old glory too.
While I am fighting beneath the skies,
I'll think of you night and day,
Then stood the tears in her big blue eyes,
And he heard her softly say.

II.

Time passes by and she's been so true,
True to her sailor lad,
Word soon arrives from her boy in blue,
And makes her sad heart feel glad,
Dearie I'm thinking of you each day,
How lonely my heart has been,
Thinking of her sweetheart far away,
She writes back these words to him.

Chorus on other side

Chorus.

"While you are fighting for Uncle Sam,
Out on the deep blue sea,
I'm hoping that you soon come back again,
And always be true to me.
Though I'm alone while you're far away,
I'll keep all my love for you,
Till the day that you return to me,
My Boy in Blue.
