Just Put Us On Your List. 2

War Reigns Again!

After long years of peace
War reigns again!

Life's days of peace and calm, alas, are blurred
As in the by-gone days;
And once again the patriot's heart is stirred
With loyalty ablaze.
To-day a righteous anger rules the world.
After the years of peace
War reigns again!

God knows we prized our happy blood, bought peace
With sacred love;
And prayed for its perpetual lease
From him above.
But world-wide duty called for war, and so
After a time of peace
War reigns again!

To crush base tyranny's despotic sting
By all abhorred,
Make safe, DEMOCRACY! All voices ring
With one accord.
So nevermore, O God, may sound the cry,
After long years of peace
War reigns again!
