

DON'T WORRY - UNCLE SAM'S ALL RIGHT !

AMERICA TO-DAY

WORDS BY HERBERT MOORE

MUSIC BY
W. R. WILLIAMS

PRESIDENT WILSON.

LIBERTY'S STILL STANDING IN THE BAY.

PUBLISHED ALSO FOR BAND AND ORCHESTRA

WILL ROSSITER
THE CHICAGO PUBLISHER
71 W. RANDOLPH ST. CHICAGO ILL.
COPYRIGHT MCMXVII BY WILL ROSSITER

FARMER

11/6/46
21

AMERICA TO-DAY

Words by HERBERT MOORE.

Music by
W. R. WILLIAMS

Marcia

Vamp

The We

hist-ry of A-mer-i-ca is won-der-ful, It's chap-ter tell of men with hearts of gold;—
have the mem'-ry of the Rev-o-lu-tion, And we've the mem-o-ry of six-ty one;—

Their names well al-ways cher-ish, Their fame will nev-er per-ish, Their splen-did deeds will live for years un-
We tell in song and stor-y, They bat-tled for old Glo-ry, And well pro-ject the Vic-to-ries they told, But if we dwell on by gone days there's dang-er, That won, A We're strong for peace if it is peace with hon-or, But we'll for-get the qual-i-ties that last; Place lau-rel on each great man's brow, But dout for-get, we're strong-er still for right; What-ev-er fu-ture days may bring, Our mf mp f rall

a tempo

don't for - get the men of now, Don't think that all the good lies in the past.
country first, that's the big thing, U - nit - ed to a man - we still can fight.

a tempo

CHORUS

Don't say that all the Statesmen died with Lin - coln, Don't think that all the her - oes died with p f

Grant, You'll find we've still the pow'r, To pro - duce men of the hour, Be - cause they've had no call, don't say they can't, Re - mem - ber we've a her - i - tage of glo - ry, And

Lib - er - ty's still stand - ing in the bay, As in his form - er days of might, Don't wor - ry Uncle Sam's all right! We'll fight for A - mer - i - ca to - day, Don't day.

rall

a tempo

From Editorial Page of the Chicago "Evening American"

SOMEWHERE SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE

by WM. VAUGHAN DUNBAR and SHELTON BROOKS

Look at the above little picture for a few minutes, and you'll understand what this new ballad "SOMEWHERE, SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE" is all about. The story is well told, and the music is exceptionally good—it's a ballad that will live in the history of song. France has again astonished the world—and we are all glad to sing her praises; either in speech or in song, and we know we can often accomplish more with a song than a sermon. You will show your appreciation for right by having a copy of this song in your home, where your personal friends can see it. When ordering the song, be sure you mention the writers' names, so that you'll be sure to get the right song

WILL ROSSITER, "The Chicago Publisher" 71 W. Randolph Street, CHICAGO, ILL.