

"COME ON BOYS. LET'S GET TOGETHER NOW"

SONG

POEM AND COPYRIGHT BY CONRAD HABER, 41 W. 125 ST. N. Y. C.

MUSIC BY

RAYMOND A. BRONSTEIN
SUITE 1115
1482 BROADWAY, N. Y.

Intro marci

"Come On, Boys, Let's Get Together, Now" By Conrad Haber.

Now, you all know what Sherman said; now, let's allow it's true;
 You all know from the books you've read what dreadful things were do;
 This struggle may be over soon; then we'll have peace once more;
 But til then we'll assume it is our land we're fighting for.

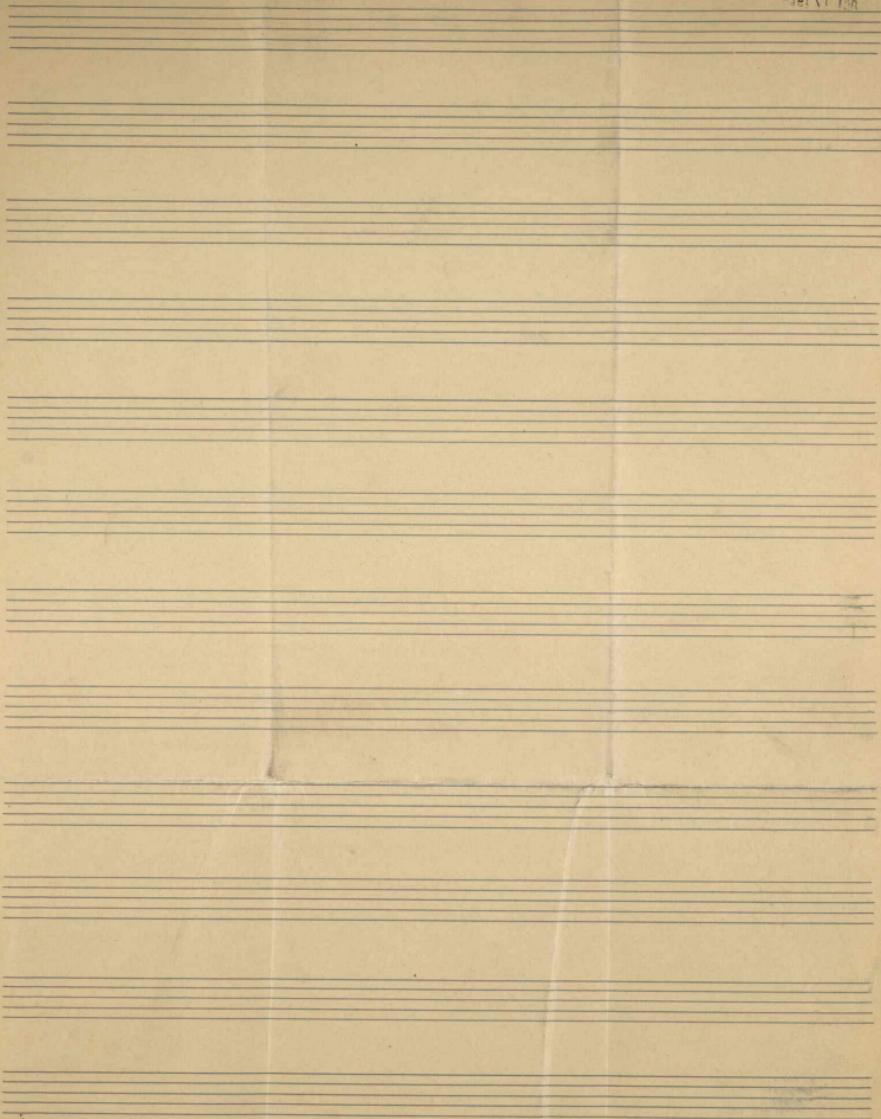

CHORUS.

Come on, Boys, let's all get together now; we all must do our share;
 The Army, The Navy, the Aeroplanes--maybe--they all have room for you, there;
 If you're proud to live in this Land of the Free; then help us fight for Democracy
 Come on, boys, we must all we can--now, let's all fight for Uncle Sam.

2

There's many battles have been fought for this old U.S.A.;
 and many heroes we are taught, fought for us, night and day;
 let's show them now what we can do; and let us all unite
 For our dear old Red, White, and Blue--we'll show them we can fight.

171100

410007