"From The American Women To Sammy In France" By Grace Mel Murray.

1
 Pale, sad eyed and tired--so wistful and blue;
 Here's to you--my soldier--big hearted and true;
 We're hoping and trusting the end may be near
 When you will return to those that you hold dear!

CHORUS.

My Land and Your Land--the home of the brave;
 We look to you laddies, our Honor to save.

2
 The road may be dark and with trials beset;
 Just emulate Perahing, and French LaFayette;
 Your upper lip stiff and remember that we;
 Know you're fighting for us on land and on sea.

3
 Each night as I kneel by my bedside to pray;
 I never forget to the Dear Lord to say:
 "Take care of dear Sammy--he's somewhere in France--
 And bring him back safe at the very first chance"

Blank musical manuscript paper with ten sets of five-line staves.
