©CLE426744 MAR 27 1918
R JUN 13 1918

"The Mothers."

Words by Mrs. A. J. Purcell. R.F.D. 1 Shelburne. Vermont.

Music by R. A. Browne.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS No. 2
M1646
.B

"The Mothers."

Words by Mrs. A. J. Purcell

Music by R. A. Browne.

Mod to not marcia

Oh there's nothing more sacred in Heaven or earth than the love between mother and son
And when peace is restored once again among men and like brothers the Nations become Then our mp

always has been and it always will be soldiers + sailors will all hasten home
sings the time that this word was begun
To their mothers beyond sound of drum.
When we
And when

Think of the Peril that hangs o'er our Land
dear Uncle Sam shall reward his brave boys
To our Flag
for their deity to others and him
the mothers so brave
Are they Then may down

Sentiment feeling and give with good cheer Their sons just their Country to save.
In his heart he'll have feelings of love For the mothers so brave strong and grim.
Mod to Assai
Chorus.
The Mother who gave their sons to the Cause That home and freedom might live May the Mother in Heaven obtain from her Son That peace which the world cannot give Peace and good will to all men The peace for which we pray
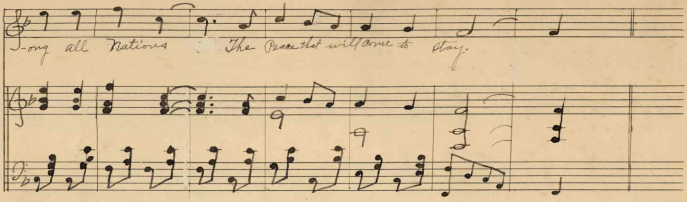
Peace am



No. 2

Mrs. A. J. Purcell.
R.F.D. 1. Shelburne, Vermont.

45455