"O, GREAT WAS THE BATTLE, THEY FOUGHT OVER THERE!" Wm. Tully.

1

The Great War is over--the Fight bravely won;
And how my heart longs for my dear only son;
He fought for the Cause ,yes, for Justice and Right,
The Home of the Eagle, that never knew fright!
Where our Stars and Stripes they wave welcome to all;
We love our brave Allies--they're men, one and all--
They put up a fight that the world can't forget;
They stuck to their guns when the fields were blood wet.

2

How many were waiting and watching, maybe,
For some gallant laddie gone over the sea;
Who left just to fight at his dear Country's call;
That liberty should always rule o'er us all!
They all volunteered ,not a man there was slack,
Thos most have come home, there is some wont come back;
And many a dear one has prayd on her knee,
"Send back, oh send back, my dear loved one to me!"

CHORUS.

Oh, great was the battle they fought over there;
Our brave Yankee boys for the huns did not care;
With all their cruel weapons of gas, shot, and shell;
Our boys they plunged through that furnace of hell!
