"O, Victory, O Victory" By Carrie A. Hill.

No right has triumphed over might;
 And brain not brawn shall win our fight;
 The pen is mightier than the sword;
 No more shall patriots' blood be poured in wanton waste o' victory.

CHORUS.

O Victory, O Victory; our land at last so free, is free;
 From bayonet charge and liquid fire; from trench escaped thro' mud and mire;
 From bombs that burst on land and sea; O hail with joy, O Victory.

Peace, blessed peace, has come to stay;
 No more shall kings, rulers sway;
 A world of innocence to kill;
 The true, the innocent, at will.
 For we have gained thee, victory.

The Lord of hosts stretched forth his hand and save our glorious stricken land;
 from cruel greed and kingly pow'r;

This image shows a blank sheet of music manuscript paper. It features ten sets of five-line staves, arranged vertically down the page. Each set of staves is completely empty, with no musical notation or markings. The paper has a light beige or cream color and shows signs of being a physical document, such as a vertical crease down the center and some minor discoloration or wear.
