"Our Soldier Boys Are Over in France" By James Tackett.

Our boys are over, now, in France, and more are on their way;
 We're going to put Old Glory to the front rank of the fray;
 They're going to get the Kaiser, he's booked for sure defeat;
 When he sees Gen'ral Pershing he'll start beating a retreat.

The Kaiser's getting restless and he don't know what to do;
 His ships he keeps from sailing, but, in spite, we get them through;
 He banks upon his U1 boats but he sees that they must fail;
 For winged birds of America they have begun to sail.

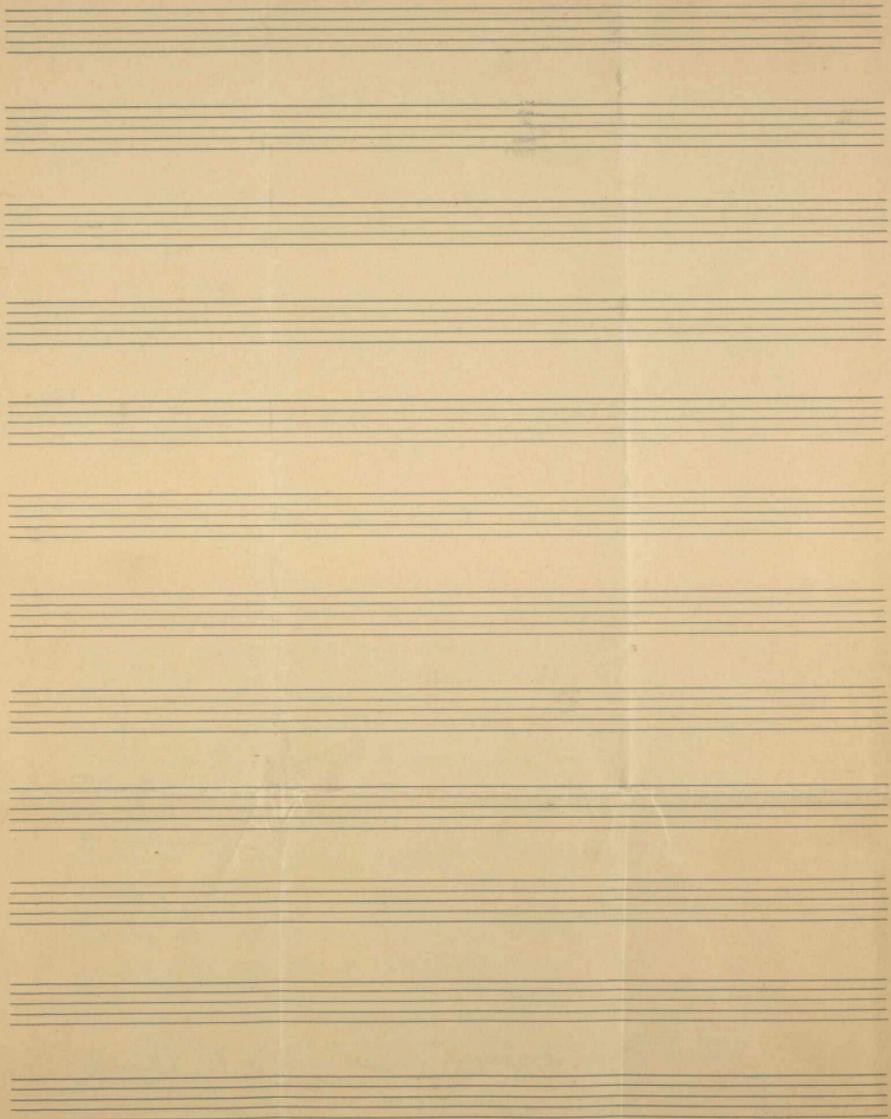

Our soldier boys have gone to France, they're there for Freedom's right;
 They've joined up with the army and they're not afraid to fight;
 The flower of our country, and the brainiest of men;
 They'll rout the Huns in jig time, and the war bring to an end.

Our soldier boys are out in France--that's where they like to be;
 They'll bring the Kaiser to his knees and set all Nations free;
 Hurrah for our brave soldier boys; they never knew retreat;
 Take hats off to Old Glory, for she, too, knows not defeat.

I call upon all--all--young men, wherever they may be;
 To join the colors right away and fight for liberty;
 So go, put on a uniform, be numbered with the brave, and do not be a stay at home, and fill a coward's grave.

CHORUS

Our soldier boys are over in France; our soldier boys are over in France; and they'll take ole Kaiser Bill, and they'll put him through the mill-- Our soldier boys over in France.
