"Right From The U.S.A." By F. De Forest Jones .

Soldier boy, get in line, mark time; overseas to the war you must go;
There's a foe, over there, and they don't seem to care,
But they'd better beware--don't you know?
So prepare for the fray, soldier boy; show the Kaiser he'd better keep mum;
If he don't stop it, quick, why, he'll get the big stick,
And we'll put the whole bunch on the run.

CHORUS.

Show the Hun your Uncle Sam is right from the U.S.A.
Think of the cause of liberty that you are fighting for to day;
Step right up, don't be a slacker, just show them what you will do;
Grab your knapsack and your gun; keep the Hun upon the run;
From the Old Red, White, and Blue.

2

When the boys march away with their hearts beating gay;
And Old Glory is flying, so grand;
We're as proud as can be of this land of the free;
And our soldiers--the best in the land.
Ev'ry mother and dad greet their brave soldier lad,
As he steps to his place in the line;
For tis he, we all know, that the Kaiser will show
That the Stars and the Stripes ever shine.
