

Sammy Doodle.

Words by Geo. A. Perley.

Music by R. A. Browne.

1. In ear - ly days old Johh-ny Bull was like an ang - ry
2. The world to Wil-liam was a plum and he a lem - on dad - dy At Joh-na-than, a strap-ping son, a scrap-per of a squeezer, But Un - cle said that he could squeeze as hard as an - y lad - die. In la - ter days his name was changed and Un-cle Sam we kais - er. Bill's sub-ma-rines and fight-ing stuff un - to the world looks men-tion, For Johhny Bull now takes his arm re - gard-less of at-junk - y, Some oth - er way than guns must do when men a - gain get ten-tion. Old Un - cle is a so - cial chap with lots of sons and spunky. The sold-ier man now changes front un - to an - oth - er daughters, He's sent two million more or less a - cross the bri - ny mast - er. He's not so rough nor quite so gruff, but moves a lit - tle wat - ers. Old Johh-ny Bull and Kais-er Bill got in an al - ter-fast - er. We have the day, we have the right, be - cause of rev - o-ca - tion. So Un - cle said he'd go a - cross and give them ed-u-ca-tion. lu-tion. There's always something just a-head of man-ding a so - lu-tion.

Chorus.

And now ad - just-ment days have come, so be a lit - tle han-dy,

Un - cle Sam or Joh - na-than or Yan - kee Doo - dle Dan - dy!

Op - por - tu - ni - ty is here, there may not be an - oth - er, A help - ing hand gives lots of cheer, it makes a Man a Broth - er.
