"When Uncle Sam Gets Germany" By W. R. Neely.

If the Germans they don't soon give in;
Uncle Sam will go through thick and thin;
For he's determined that he'll get them in the end;
He has started out to join the fight;
And the whole world says that it is right;
That he has declared war on that German land.
He has kept on giving them a show;
That they'd stop those awful cruel blows;
But they kept on just the same, never once they've drawn the rein,
But now they will have to go!

CHORUS.

Good Bye, Kaiser! Good bye to you!
Uncle Sam is going to make you look real blue!
On the German Capitol--Our Old Glory it will fly--
So good Bye Kaiser! Good bye to you!

2

Yes, the Germans they've been fooled at last!
And the Kaiser he is breathing fast!
For he's seen his autocratic ideas will not go!
He has done all that is in his pow'r,
To make other nations his right bow' r
But they all have turned him down now at th door.
Austria and Turkey, too are sore.
And they have their eyes upon this shore;
Just like a big old bee drone; he gets more and more alone,
He's a big old German bore.
