

tramp, tramp, tramp, on to vic - ~~tor~~ try let your hearts be light and gay - For Li - ber - ty is march - ing march - ing on be - fore you and you're bound to win the day. day.

Verse 1.

All the boys in town were marching off to win the war,
To defend the Stars and Stripes they carried on before;
Bands were playing, sweethearts saying many fond good-byes,
Mothers bravely smiled and brushed the tear-drops from their eyes.--

Chorus:

As they went marching, marching, marching on to glory
For the good old U.S.A.,
Their friends cried out, "Good bye old pals, we're mighty sorry
That you have to go away;
While you're tramp, tramp, tramping on to vict'ry
Let your hearts be light and gay,
For Liberty is marching, marching on before you
And you're bound to win the day.

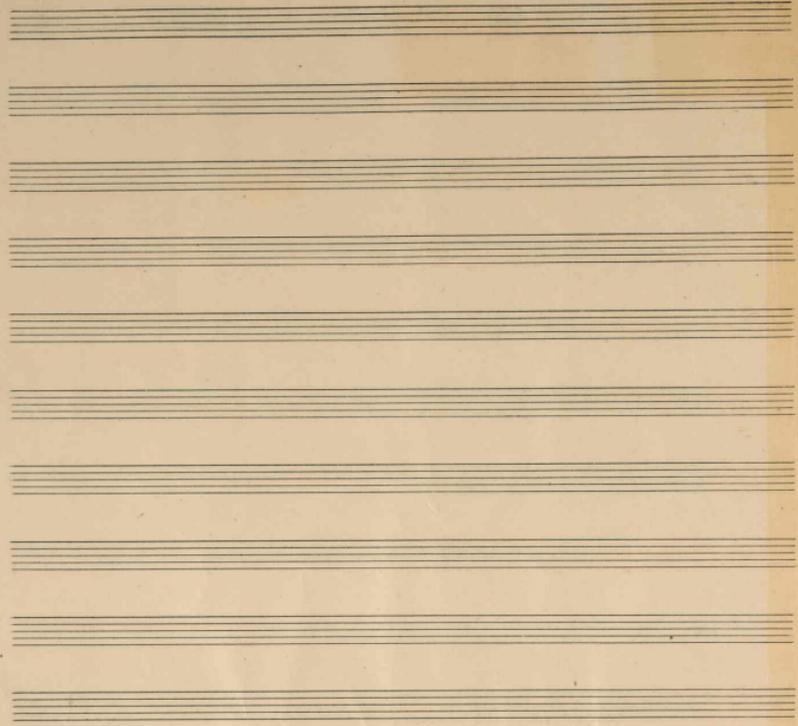

Verse II.

Soon the boys were "over there" all eager for the fray,
Singing as they tramped along the hot and dusty way;
Comrades who were left behind cried, "We'll soon be there too,
Don't forget you're fighting for the old Red, White and Blue."

Chorus.

And they went marching. -- etc.

→ Berrie Craig Capen,
1124 Smith Ave, S.W.,
Canton, Ohio.

As they went marching, marching on to glory
 For the good old U.S.A., God be with us
 Their friends cried out, "God be with us
 That you have to go away,
 While you're tramp, tramp, marching on to glory,
 Let your hearts be light and gay,
 For liberty is marching on before you
 And you're bound to win the day."

:cresc.:

When the boys were "over there" all eager for the fray,
 Standing on their knees and feet and their eyes
 Comrades who were left behind cried, "We'll soon be there too,
 Don't forget you're fighting for the old Red, White and Blue."

:cresc.:

And they were marching, marching on to glory...

MAY 13 1918

431664

From
B.C. Capen
1124 Smith av. S.W.
Canton, Ohio.

The Register of Copyrights,
Copyright Office, Library of Congress,
Washington, D. C.

89901

REGISTERED

32

49150