MAY 12 1917
©CLE405166

The Unfurling Of the Flag

Words by Clara Endicott Sears

Music by John Hopkins Densmore

Price 25 cents net

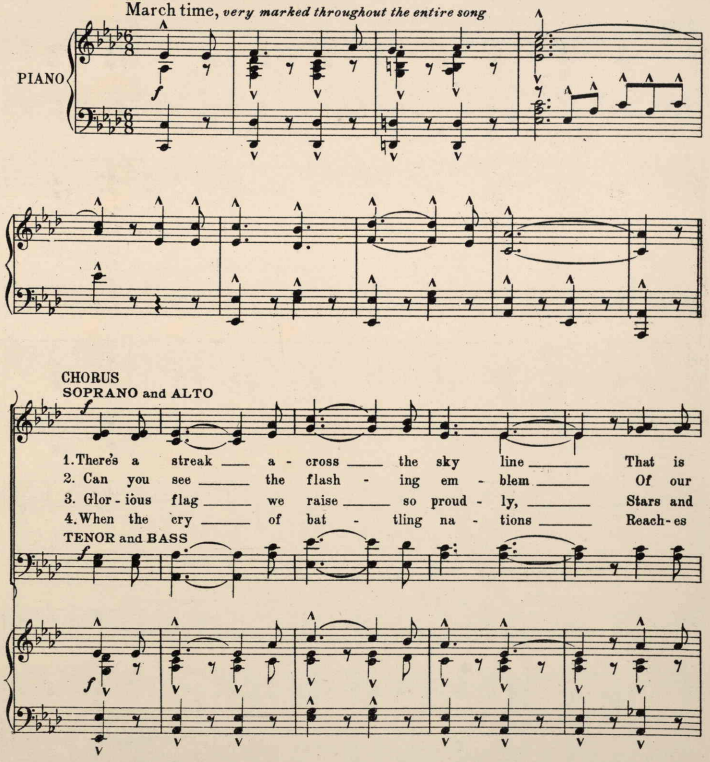
Published by
C. W. Thompson & Co.
2B Park Street
Boston, Mass.

DATE OF PUBLICATION
MAY 5 1917
BOSTON, MASS
M1646
.D
LC

THE UNFURLING OF THE FLAG

CLARA ENDICOTT SEARS

JOHN HOPKINS DENSMORE



Copyright, 1917, by Clara E. Sears and John H. Densmore International Copyright Secured gleam - ing in the sun, Watch - ers from the Coun - try's high i - deal? Keep your lift - ed stripes, red, white and blue, You have been the us - a - cross the space Of a wild tu-light - house tow - ers Sig-nalled it to for - eign eyes up - on it And draw joy and cour - age in - spi - ra - tion Of an ev - er grow - ing mul - tuos o - cean, Hearts are stirred with deep e - Po - wers Just as day - light had be - gun, Mes-sage from it, For it stands for what is real, Free-dom's na - tion Such as this world nev - er knew. Peace and mo - tion For the sav - ing of the race! Peace for-thrill - ing, Hopes ful.- fill - ing To those fight - ing call - ing To the fall - ing From op - pres - sion's Jus - tice, Free-dom, Pro - gress, Are the bless - ings go - ing, Aid be - stow - ing, First we drop on o'er the seas. "It's the flag we've named Old hard de - crees. It's the flag we've named Old we can seize When the flag we call Old bend - ed knees, Then with shouts our grand Old ossia

Glo - ry That's un - furl - ing to the breeze."
Glo - ry You see float - ing in the breeze.
Glo - ry Is un - furl - ing to the breeze.
Glo - ry We set flaunt - ing to the breeze!

406112